Lieut.-Gen. U. S. GRANT, Maj.-Gen. SHERMAN,

Maj.-Gen. MEADE, Maj.-Gen. SHERIDAN,
Maj.-Gen. ORD, Maj.-Gen. RAWLINS,
AND MAPS, PLANS, ETC., ETC.,
1 vol. 8vo; 500 pages, $3 50.

This work will be in every particular trustworthy and accurate. Written by the Lieut.-General's life-long friend from official documents put exclusively into his hands, it cannot fail to meet every requirement of the public expectation.

The following extracts from the PREFATORY LETTER FROM THE AUTHOR fully explain the character and scope of the work:

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA,
PHILADELPHIA, July 1, 1865.

MY DEAR SIR: It is with peculiar pleasure that I have undertaken to write the military biography of Lieut.-Gen. Grant, because, having known him from boyhood, I have watched the successive steps and symmetrical development of his character, and find in his complete and rounded life not a single point which will require me to trim my pen for the purposes of championship, extenuation or palliation. We were cadets together; and I now see how the cadet of 1840 exhibited qualities which only needed fostering and opportunity to make him the generalissimo of 1865.

I have great pride in knowing that I undertake the work, not only with Gen. Grant's sanction, but with his exclusive promise of every assistance. He has directed material and maps to be put in my hands, which cannot otherwise be obtained, and he and the gentlemen of his staff have offered to answer all questions, and supply all I shall need to make the work a faithful historic record.

I think I may safely promise the public that although the work might have been better done by other hands, they will find in this volume the truth, carefully sifted from the great mass of materials, systematically digested, scientifically presented in a military point of view, and uninfluenced by prejudice of any kind whatever—

"The story of his life
From year to year; the battles, sieges, fortunes
That he had passed,"

which interlink in iron chainwork the peaceful youth with the stormy, successful, illustrious manhood of our "great captain."

I am, very sincerely, yours,
H. COPPEE.

TROUBLE ON THE RIO GRANDE

The Imperial Steamer Antonio Fired Into.

Two of the French Marines Wounded.

The Firing Done by Persons in Federal Uniforms.

Position of the Forces Near Matamoros.

Departure of United States Troops from Texas.

Later News from the City of Mexico.

Unsettled and Dubious Condition of the Empire.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Nov. 27—10:30 P. M.

All sorts of absurd rumors are afloat to-night in regard to the reported collision between our forces and the French on the Rio Grande. Stock-jobbers are predicting war at once, and Gen. Grant's departure southward is exaggerated into a movement for the frontier, to take command in person. Sensible people take no stock in any of these reports, and the retailers of the sensation have but poor luck in finding believers.

Accounts to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Nov. 27.

The government has received no intelligence confirmatory of the recently published exciting reports from the Rio Grande involving our troops with the French.

All the volunteer troops in central Texas have been paid preliminary to their places being supplied by regulars.

NEW-ORLEANS, Sunday, Nov. 26.

The Matamoras Ranchero, of the 10th inst., says:

The firing upon the Imperial steamer Antonio, from the north bank of the Rio Grande, on Tuesday last, was one of the most dastardly outrages ever perpetrated on the frontier.

The Antonio, having on board a detachment of French marines and two field pieces, was forcing her way up the river under a heavy fire from the combined forces of the Liberals, when she grounded seven miles below the city, and while engaged with the enemy on the Mexican side of the river, a furious fire, at long range, was opened on the steamer from the neutral bank, which was effective in wounding two of the marines.

The Liberals on the north bank of the river were dressed in the United States Federal uniforms.

The French Commander refrained from returning the fire from the Texas bank of the river.

The Ranchero adds:

"It appears to be the settled purpose of the same men to bring on a war between the United States and Mexico.

These outlaws have been on the American side of the river in force, where their officers were busy in enlisting recruits.'

The Antonio was fired upon from the Texas shore, near where Cortinas had been encamped.

Position of Forces Near Matamoras—United States Troops Leaving Texas—Apprehensions of Negro Insurrection.

NEW-ORLEANS, Monday, Nov. 27.

Galveston dates of the 23d report the arrival of the steamer Clinton from the Rio Grande, with a large number of white and black troops, homeward bound, to be discharged.

Passengers, four days from Matamoras, state that the Liberals, about 2,500 strong, were encamped ten miles above Matamoras, the garrison of which consisted of about 1,700 regulars, some volunteer citizens, and a detachment from a French man-of-war. Two or three French vessels were reported to be at the mouth of the river to coöperate with the Imperialists. No other reinforcements had arrived by sea. The government forces were supposed to be ample to defend the city, but insufficient to keep away the besiegers.

The Clinton brought the Twenty-eighth Indiana (colored) Infantry from Corpus Christi.

The citizens of Liberty County, Texas, have petitioned Gov. Hamilton to organize a militia force to suppress an anticipated insurrection from the negroes, who openly avow their right to a division of property, and refuse to accept any terms of hire. The Chief-Justice of the county had been threatened with death.

Col. R. H. Epperson, of Texas, has gone to Washington to complain of the corrupt conduct of officials and the unwarranted assumptions of power by Provost-Marshals and officers of the Freedmen's Bureau.

The total stock of cotton in Galveston and Houston was 32,000 bales; weekly receipts from 9,000 to 10,000 bales.

Arrival of an Agent of Juarez on the Way to Washington—He says the Liberals have 25,000 Men Under Arms, and can Raise 75,000 More.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Monday, Nov. 27.

Col. Bravo, of the Liberal army in Mexico, and bearer of dispatches from Juarez to the United States Government, arrived in Kansas City last Friday, and left immediately for Washington. Col. Bravo states that the Mexicans have 25,000 troops under arms, and 75,000 more can be put in the field as soon as the means are raised, which will be speedily.

LATE FROM MEXICO.

Condition of the Country—Anarchy and Confusion—Departure of the Empress for Europe—Her Reception at Vera Cruz—Reinforcements at that City.

NEW-ORLEANS, Monday, Nov. 27.

The Times has advices from Vera Cruz of the 14th inst., which say:

"Everything is unsettled in Mexico. General distrust prevails. Business is paralized. Maximilian's power is daily lessening. Puebla has been selected as general furnishing quarters for the Imperial army, and has been strongly garrisoned with Austrians. The roads are unsafe. Robberies are hourly committed. The country is in a deplorable state. There is no business, nor is there security for anything. Orizaba has been strongly fortified in anticipation of an attack by the Liberals. Cordova has been abandoned, and all the war material removed to the interior. Judge Perkins, Gen. Price and Gov. Allen are sanguine of success in their colonization scheme. The Empress has started for Yucatan, unaccompanied by Maximilian, who follows in January. The reception of the Empress along the route was quite tame, except in Vera Cruz, where the demonstrations were quite grand. The Empress was to depart on the 16th for Yucatan. Fourteen hundred reinforcements arrived at Vera Cruz on the 12th, and more were looked for. The Liberals were actively collecting at all points."

The North Carolina Legislature.

RALEIGH, N. C., Monday, Nov. 27.

The Legislature met to-day. The Lower House organized by electing S. F. Phillips, of Orange County, Speaker. There was no election of Speaker in the Senate. Messrs. Ferrebo and Settle were voted for.

FROM THE WEST.

Court-Martial in the Case of Hefferman—The Murderer of Gen. McCook to be Executed—Colored Troops Going to Arkansas—Revenue Frauds.

NASHVILLE, Monday, Nov. 27.

The Military Commission for the trial of the murderers of Mr. Heffernan, closed the case to-day for the prosecution. The four parties engaged in the murder are: Wm. Dean, George Craft, J. Lysought and James A. Jones. The court adjourned to 2 o'clock to-morrow, when evidence will be given. Craft is considered the principal actor in the tragedy, and is from New-York State. Mr. Heffernan's funeral took place to-day from the Cathedral, attended by an immense concourse of citizens.

The cotton market is dull to-day; prices ranged from 42c.@42¾c., closing at 42c. for middling. The receipts are much larger than usual; 915 bales were received and 464 were shipped.

The water on the shoals is 14 inches deep.

NASHVILLE, Monday, Nov. 27.

A court-martial assembled yesterday for the trial of William Hefferman, and adjourned to 10 o'clock to-day.

Yesterday Mr. Hefferman died at 12 o'clock noon.

Frank Guerley, the murderer of Gen. R. McCook, reached here from Huntsville last night.

Gen. R. W. Johnson, acting by orders from the Washington Department, returned the prisoner to Huntsville, where he will be executed on Friday next.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Monday, Nov. 27.

Gen. Brisbin's colored brigade left yesterday for Helena, Ark.

The collector of Internal Revenue received a dispatch from Cincinnati, directing him to seize a boat with 3,000 barrels of oil, en route to St. Louis, on its arrival here.

FROM THE SOUTHWEST.

Gen. Hamilton on Voting in Texas—Seizure of Louisiana Cotton—Freedmen in Alabama.

NEW-ORLEANS, Sunday, Nov. 26.

The wharves and landings have been relinquished by the city authorities, the government reserving one thousand feet of the levee for its own use.

Gov. Hamilton's proclamation, callinga Texas convention, says that all persons are qualified voters who have taken the amnesty oath, or have been pardoned, and are eligible to seats in the convention, even if the oath was taken or they were pardoned subsequent to their election.

Gov. Wells has appointed an agent to seize 800 bales of cotton in Galveston and ship the same to this city, it being the property of the State of Louisiana.

Gov. Parsons, of Alabama, has recommended to the State Convention, the passage of an act declaring that the freedmen shall have the same measure of protection that is now secured to the non-voting white population.

The steamer E. Vernon, from Galveston for New-Orleans, was caught in the gale of the 17th inst., lost her rudder and drifted to Pass-Cavallo.

FIRE AT MEADVILLE, PENN.

A Whole Block Destroyed—Eleven Stores and a Printing Office Gone—Loss $150,000.

BUFFALO, Monday, Nov. 27.

A very disastrous fire occurred at Meadville, Penn., yesterday. An entire block of wooden buildings on Water and Dock streets was totally destroyed. They were occupied by some of the most important business firms of the town. The loss is estimated at from $150,000 to $175,000. Eleven stores, several millinery establishments, and the Journal printing-office were destroyed. The insurance is small. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Another communication from the same source, notified the Council that the military police force will be withdrawn on the 25th of next month.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Preparations for the Coming Session.

The Course to be Pursued by the Clerk of the House.

No List of Members to be Made Before Saturday.

The Treasury Report to Echo the Fort Wayne Speech.

Corrections About Increasing the Banking Capital.

Investigation of the Emigrant Enlistment Frauds.

Departure of Lieut.-Gen. Grant on His Southern Tour.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Nov. 27.

THE LIST OF MEMBERS—POSITION OF THE CLERK.

On inquiry it is ascertained that but comparatively few of the credentials of members elect of the House of Representatives have been received, either from the late insurrectionary or the other States. Therefore the Clerk of the House has not prepared a list of the members, and will not probably do so before Saturday. No credentials have been received from the late insurrectionary States, excepting from Virginia in part, and Tennessee complete. The position of the Clerk of the House is understood to be as follows: That he is merely to administer the law of 1863, in placing the names of members elect upon the roll, his course on doubtful points being controlled by the precedents set by the House in the absence of judicial ruling as to the construction of the law. Whatever defects may be discovered can of right be remedied by the House. In addition to the validity and formality of the credentials, should these facts appear, the only other question which could occur would be whether the States lately in rebellion are now in full relation to the other States in the sense contemplated by the law of 1863; or, in different language, whether they are completely restored to their rights and privileges in the Union. The question as to whether certain members elect can or cannot take the test oath will not properly occur until after the election of the Speaker, whose duty it is to administer it to the other members before proceeding further on the business of organization.

TREASURY REPORT.

The Secretary of the Treasury makes no secret of the fact that his forthcoming report on the finances will be merely an enlargement of the views recently presented in his Fort Wayne speech.

BONDS READY.

The Treasury Department is delivering the bonds of the fifty millions of the five-twenty conversion loan, at the rate of one and a half millions a day. Between nine and ten millions only remain to be supplied to the subscribers.

NO INCREASE OF NATIONAL BANK CAPITAL.

To set at rest all the rumors with reference to an increase of one hundred millions in the National bank capital, which, it is reported, will be recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury, we can state upon the very best authority that no such increase of the bank capital will be recommended, either by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Comptroller of the Currency, except upon the express condition that the increase be in five-twenty bonds purchased with one hundred millions of legal tenders, to be withdrawn from the currency and replaced by ninety millions of National bank notes. This will result in an actual reduction of ten millions in the currency.

INTERNAP REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The receipts of internal revenue to-day were $1,380,497 58.

THE EMIGRANT ENLISTMENT SWINDLE.

To-day the Military Commission, composed of Gens. Hitchcock, Nott and Seth Williams, met and organized. This commission is ordered to investigate certain frauds alleged to have been committed at Boston, Mass., by agents, who, by fraud and misrepresentation, induced and forced German emigrants to enter our army as substitutes. The commission will probably, in a short time, move to Boston, where it will hear the evidence of witnesses.

FORD'S THEATRE.

Mr. Dunbar, the contractor for the work of transforming Ford's Theatre to subserve its new purposes, has finished his job and delivered the building into possession of the government. It will be remembered that the price specified in the contract was $28,500, which makes the property now stand at $128,500. The work seems to have been done in a solid, substantial manner. The structure, it is well known, was entirely divested of all its interior finish and furniture, leaving nothing but four naked brick walls and the roof. It is now divided into three stories, with a spacious skylight in the centre.

TURNED OVER TO THE CIVIL AUTHORITIES.

H. M. Hitchcock and Cyprus Molans were this morning released from the Old Capitol, and ordered by the Secretary of War to be turned over to the civil authorities. They were committed by Gen. Baker some time since on the charge of stealing government property. Robert Heth was also released from the Old Capitol Prison by order of the Secretary of War. He was committed by order of the President on the charge of robbing the government.

THE VETERAN RESERVE CORPS.

The following order in relation to unemployed officers of the Veteran Reserve Corps has been issued:

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, Nov. 24, 1865.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 165.—Immediately on receipt of this order, all officers of the Veteran Reserve Corps whose services can be dispensed with will be relieved and ordered to proceed to their respective places of residence, and from there report by letter to the Adjutant-General of the army for orders. The names of all officers so relieved will be reported by the several commanders under whose orders they now are to the Adjutant-General of the army.

By order of Lieut.-Gen. GRANT.
E. D. TOWNSEND, Assistant Adjutant-General.

PAY TO THE SECOND NEW-YORK CAVALRY OFFICERS.

Col. Harrison White, late of the Second Provisional New-York Cavalry, informs us that his application to the Secretary of War for pay for the officers of his command, who were detained at Elmira some twenty days, through misapprehension, has been favorably considered, and the Paymaster-General has been instructed to pay them accordingly. The evidence of such detention will be the certificate of Maj. Hayman, U. S. A., Chief Mustering Officer, Elmira.

GET. GRANT'S SOUTHERN TOUR.

Lieut.-Gen. Grant, accompanied by Cols. Babcock and Badeau, of his staff, left this morning on his proposed Southern visit. The trip will probably extend as far as Charleston, and include Richmond, Raleigh and Wilmington.

WHITE HOUSE VISITORS.

Very few of the visitors at the White House to-day obtained interviews with the President, owing to the pressure of important public business.

RETURN OF GEN. BOWERS.

Col. Bowers, Adjutant-General, at headquarters Armies of the United States, returned to his post last evening, after an absence of several weeks, diligently improved in restoring health and vigor.

JOHN MITCHEL NOT PARDONED.

It has been stated that the President has pardoned John Mitchel. This is untrue. Mitchel did not even apply for pardon when here, but took the oath of allegiance at the State Department, which was indispensable in procuring a passport.

PERSONAL MOVEMENTS.

Gen. Butler, Gen. Rousseau, Humphrey Marshall and R. M. T. Hunter were at the Executive mansion to-day. Ex-rebel Gens. J. R. Anderson and J. M. Withers are in the city; so are Herschel V. Johnson, of Georgia, Horace H. Day and John Sedgwick and lady, of New-York.

SEEKING FOR PARDON.

R. M. T. Hunter and the rebel Brig.-Gen. Roane, of Arkansas, were at the Attorney-General's office to-day urging their claims for pardon.

THE WEST INDIA SQUADRON.

Commodore Palmer has received preparatory orders for the command of the West India Squadron which is now being formed.

THE CRAVEN TRIAL.

The trial of Commodore Craven was continued to day, but nothing especially interesting was elicited.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

George C. Whiting, Esq., acting Chief Clerk of the Department of the Interior, has been dispatched by the Secretary as special agent of the department, to visit the Miami Indians of Indiana, and pay them their annuities. He left the city to-day for that purpose.

THE RICHMOND TOBACCO.

Messrs. Belmont & Co., as agents of the Rothschilds, have put in a claim for the tobacco recently seized by the Treasury officers at Richmond as rebel property. The case will probably come up in the courts.

THE DEATH OF GEN. DE RUSSEY.

The Secretary of War issues a General Order announcing the death of Brevet Brig.-Gen. R. E. de Russey, of the Corps of Engineers. He pays a high compliment to his long and faithful services, and the Engineer Corps is ordered to wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

MUSTERED OUT.

In obedience to orders from the War Department, the Eighth and Eleventh Connecticut and One Hundred and Eighty-eighth Pennsylvania and Forty-first and One Hundred and Third New-York Volunteers, serving in the Department of Virginia, are at once to be mustered out of the service.

A COUNTERFEIT SEIZED.

A counterfeit place of 12-50 (?) coupons has been found and seized by the detectives.

PRIZE CLAIMS.

Up to the present time, prize claims to the amount of $10,000,000 have been adjudicated, and over $9,000,000 have already been paid over.

RE-WORKING TOBACCO.

E. J. Whitlock, United States Inspector of Tobacco at Brooklyn, N. Y., has written to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, representing that there are in the market large quantities of tobacco manufactured at the South during the war, which tobacco, having been put up without ingredients, commonly used in the manufacture of this commodity, is unfit for use, but that many parties engaged in manufacturing have found that this tobacco can be worked up to advantage and profit, and desire to know on what conditions such reworking can be allowed. The decision of the Commissioner is, that it may be reworked under the supervision of an Inspector who will carefully take the weight of the tobacco before and after reworking, and in all cases when there is an increase of weight from the addition of new stock the amount of this increase must be returned to the Assistant Assessor of the district, and the current rate of duties paid thereon; and any party reworking such tobacco without the knowledge of the Inspector, and without having the same carefully weighed as above stated, will be held liable for the full tax on the entire amount reworked, as on tobacco newly manufactured.

RIOT AT ASTORIA.

The Ferry-House Plundered — Citizens Outraged—The Village at the Mercy of a Mob—Neat Job by the Police.

The peace of the good citizens of Astoria was outrageously violated, yesterday, by the riff-raff following of one of our Volunteer Target Companies. The result, however, thanks to the energetic action of the Metropolitan Police, was not such as to afford encouragement for future performances of a similar sort. About 12 A. M., the "Live Oak Volunteers," composed of the members of the old fire company No. 44, crossed the Hell-Gate Ferry, for a target excursion. There were fifty muskets, and accompanying them were from fifty to one hundred rowdies of the kind known as "runners"—a class whose vocation seems to be nearly at an end in this city.

ROBBERY OF THE FERRY MASTER.

The first indication of the stripe of these fellows was an attack upon the Ferry Master's office. The receiver on the New-York side had gone to his dinner, and the fares were to be paid at the Astoria landing. There were so many passengers that the Ferry Master left his box and stood by the large gate, not prudently, as it proved, but with the intention of preventing the forcing of the gate. It was forced, however, and while the major part of the rabble passed through, another portion gutted the receiver's box, possessing themselves of some $75 which it contained in money. This achieved, the rioters scattered through the village, paying particular attention to the beer-shops and drinking-saloons. It is just just to say that the target company, as a general thing, preserved decent order, and that the officers seemed to feel a proper degree of responsibility. There were, however, quite a number who sympathized with the rioters and both abetted and led them.

ASSAULT UPON THE STEAMBOAT AGENT.

About 5 P. M., the shooting match being over, and a vast quantity of cocktails and lager disposed of, the company assembled at the Harlem steamboat landing. The Sylvan Stream was due at 5:30, but the agent, fearing that the riotous characters present would damage the boat and insult the passengers, signaled to the Captain not to land. The boat, consequently, swept by, and the rowdies set upon the agent. He was attacked by 40 or 50 of the "runners," aided by a number of the volunteers, who clubbed him with their muskets. The agent, though a powerful and courageous man, was considerably hurt, and only escaped from his assailants in his pantaloons—his coat, vest and shirt being torn to ribbons. A diversion was effected at this moment by the approach of the ferry-boat, and a rush was made for the gate.

ROW AT THE FERRY-HOUSE.

The constabulary of Astoria, consisting of two inoffensive men, was stationed within the gate. The Captain of the volunteer company began to attempt passing his men regularly in, when a rush was made at the opening, and order was lost. At the same time, the rabble of "runners" began to swarm over the gate like ants. A feeble remonstrance was made by the constabulary, and one boy was even tapped on the head with a stick. This excited the wrath of the rowdies, and those within the gate—among whom were several of the "volunteers"—set upon the unoffending peace-officers, and aided their friends without, to scale the fence. But they reckoned without their host, for the approaching ferry-boat, which at this moment touched the bridge, contained thirteen men of the Twenty-third Precinct Police, headed by Sergt. McIlvaine, with Roundsman Conolly as his Lieutenant.

LIVELY JOB BY THE POLICE.

In far less time than it takes to tell it, this platoon was on the bridge. Any one who has seen our M. P.'s go into a fight, can imagine the neat piece of work which was done in the five minutes ensuing. The rowdy soldiers clubbed their guns, and made a moment's show of fight, as did the "runners." But in a twinkling, the whole rabble was routed. The peaceably-disposed had already withdrawn to the ferry-house. There was a brisk deal, and clubs came out trumps. Some twenty or thirty persons were more or less injured—about three very severely—and the entire vociferous, swaggering rabble, which had been swelling, cursing and boasting through the streets, for several hours, was reduced to a pack of whining curs, those who were permitted to bind up their broken heads and depart unarrested, only too glad to get off so easily. A good many got away, and aired themselves by a walk to Brooklyn; such as could give satisfactory accounts of themselves were permitted to cross; the ringleaders were arrested; and thus the whole matter ended by an exertion of decision and force that will insure Astoria—it will be safe to predict—against any riot from outsiders for half a dozen years. There is nothing like a little claret for cooling such hot-heads, and if it was drawn somewhat more freely in repressing these too often recurring suburban disturbances, they would be less frequent. It was amusing to hear a few fellows with heads tied up discussing the matter on the Third-avenue cars, homeward. They evidently thought that they had got out of reach of the police at Astoria, and were going to have a good time. "Thunder!" said they to one another, "who'd have thought they'd have follered us into the country?"

STRONG DIVORCE CASE.

Testimony of Miss Mussehl, the Governess.

A Long and Exciting Session--Singular Revelations of Life in the Country.

DEFINITION OF AN "ESTABLISHMENT."

Strange Attributes of a Turkey Carpet and a Javelin.

SHARP TALK ALL AROUND.

BEFORE JUDGE GARVIN AND A JURY.

The third day of the Strong vs. Strong divorce attracted the usual throng of friends and curiosity-seekers. The plaintiff, Mr. Strong, was in attendance, sitting at the side of Messrs. Cram and Robinson, his counsel, while the defendant, Mrs. Mary Stevens Strong, was absent, as in fact she has been since the famous disregard of the writ of habeas issued by the Supreme Court. Her father, Mr. John Austin Stevens, President of the Bank of Commerce, an elderly, quiet mannered gentleman, and his son, John Austin Stevens, Jr., sat at an opposite curve of the lawyers' table, by the side of their counsel, Messrs. McKeon, Graham and Gerry. The terrible charges preferred by Mr. Cram in his opening naturally attracted to this group the curious attention of the people in the room, making it a centre of annoying scrutiny. Judge Robertson and Commissioner McMurray were among the many who availed themselves of the opportunity to look in upon the trial of one of the most remarkable cases of the day.

On Friday Mr. Cram moved an attachment against the witness Massey, alias Montague, alias Jones, and yesterday, at the opening of the court, the following dialogue took place between the court and counsel:

Judge Garvin—We have a return made in the matter of attachment against one of the witnesses in this case. Shall it be disposed of now?

Mr. Cram—I have no desire, may it please the court, to punish Mr. Massey, nor yet Mr. Montague, for contempt. He has been passing his time since Friday in one of our public institutions—Eldridge-street jail—and is now here in custody of an officer. All that we want is to secure his attendance here as a witness. The bail is only $100, and if imposed he would readily furnish that Judge Garvin—The court has no way of compelling his attendance, except that provided by the writ.

Mr. Cram—The witness is here, Sir, in charge of an officer. I will see what he says. (After speaking to Massey) He tells me he will attend, Sir, and that is all we want.

Judge Garvin—I will not consider the matter disposed of until the close of the case.

Mr. Graham—In the midst of the confusion on Saturday, I fear that a correction which I made in reference to the issues was misapprehended in certain quarters. I find in the Herald which I hold in my hands a misstatement in regard to the oath of Mr. Strong, concerning his innocence of the crime of adultery. The Herald reporter probably intended to state the case correctly, and if so misapprehended it, for Mr. Strong does not swear that he was innocent of adultery, but swears that he denied the charge of adultery—a very different thing. If this reporter misapprehended the statement—for I know he meant to give it correctly—I fear the jury may have done so, and this would be a great wrong to my client.

Mr. Cram—I submit, your Honor, that this is entirely out of order, and should not be permitted. It's not customary for counsel to reply to an opening in this way.

Mr. Graham—Now, by reference to the papers in the case, it will be seen that Mrs. Strong asserts, in precisely the same way as Mr. Strong, her case; and he no more swears to his innocence than she to hers.

Judge Garvin—The court and the jury understood it, and the counsel need be under no fear of our misapprehension. The case will now go on.

Mr. Cram then called the first witness for the plaintiff, Miss Matilda Mussehl, a young lady of most prepossessing appearance, who sustained the trial of a long and careful examination with modesty and grace, and subsequently bore up under a severe cross-examination with becoming fortitude. The Judge sat until 4½ o'clock, the entire day being occupied by this one witness, whose cross-examination will be resumed this morning.

TESTIMONY OF MISS MATILDA MUSSEHL.

I know Mr. Strong and Mrs. Strong; have known him since October, 1860; have lived in his family; went there in October, 1860, as teacher of his children; he lived in Newtown; I lived with them; it was the house of his mother; I staid there as governess till the 20th of April, 1862; I saw Mr. Edward Strong.

Mr. Graham objected to her stating that she noticed any intimacy between Edward Strong and Mary Strong, unless the time was specified.

Mr. Cram was directed to confine himself to the issues and rules; objection overruled and exception noted.

Evidence resumed—I noticed them together; they used to be always together, riding and walking; during the whole Summer while I was there they were together; they were as much together as they could be; they rode on horseback, in carriages and sleighs; would be gone three or four hours, from morning until dinner time; this was very often the case; Edward did not go much nor regularly to town; Peter went up every day almost; from October, 1860, we lived at Newtown, till the Summer of 1861; we went for one or two months to Lennox, Mass.; in the Winter we lived for some months at Mr. Stevens' house; it was after Christmas; after we returned from Lennox we went to Newtown for a short time, and from there to Twenty-first-street; they went there in the Fall of 1861; they kept house there—the number was 50; after going there I lived nowhere else with the family; Edward was at Newtown all the time we were there.

Mr. Cram then exhibited to the counsel on the other side a diagram of the house at Newtown, and offered to present it to the witness. It had——

Mr. McKeon objected until witness said whether she had prepared it.

Mr. Cram said she had not.

The court overruled the objection and admitted the question.

Evidence resumed—This diagram represents correctly the rooms at the house in Newtown; (witness then proceeded to show the room occupied by Edward Strong;) Edward occupied a small room on the second floor; (the room was marked No. 1.)

Mr. McKeon claimed that defence should have a copy.

Mr. Cram replied that they had had one three weeks since.

Evidence resumed—He always had the same room; J. H. Strong occupied the next, marked No. 2; J. H. did not go at that time to the war; Mrs. Benjamin W. Strong occupied the rooms on the other side, Nos. 3 and 4; on the other side of the hall the Lynch children slept, No. 5; the room opposite that was used as a sitting-room by old Mrs. Strong, No. 6; the only other was old Mrs. Strong's bed-room, No. 7; on the third floor Mrs. Hutchinson slept in No. 8; she was an old nurse in the house; next to that, No. 9, was the nursery; next was the bed-room of Mr. and Mrs Peter Strong, No. 10; the closet and dressing-room adjoining, are No. 11; the room in the corner was mine, No. 12; the large room, a lumber-room, was No. 13; I slept and taught in No. 12; on the lower floor are the parlor and drawing-room; on the right No. 14; behind that the library, No. 15; on the opposite side a spare bedroom, No. 16; the dining-room was next, No. 17; the wing was used for cooking and the servants rooms; I recognize this diagram of the house in Twenty-first-street (defence having copy,) as correct.

The defence objected; objection overruled and exception noted.

Evidence resumed—I think this is correct, there is an attic above, I think. I don't remember that there was an attic, but think there was; I am not certain; rooms on the parlor floor were used as a parlor, (No. 1,) a dark parlor, (No. 2,) library and dining-room, (No, 3); on the next floor the front room was used as the Strongs bedroom, No. 4; the little room next was a dressing-room at first, No. 5; the back bedroom was the children's room, No. 6; and a nursery, No. 7; on the next story the front was a spare bedroom, No. 8; a little hall room in front was bedroom No. 9; the large one in the rear was my bedroom where I gave Mary lessons, No. 10; the rear hall room No. 11 was not occupied; (this diagram was marked exhibit No. 2;) I saw Mrs. Mary Strong come out of Edward's room.

Question objected to. Objection sustained.

Evidence resumed—I saw her come out of his room once; cannot say more than that; I knew she was in there often; I first knew of it in the beginning of my living there; the last time at Newtown I can't specify; I think we left Newtown in the Summer of 1861; it was going on all the time I was there; when I saw her leave the room, I met her on the stairs; she was greatly flushed and excited; I once knew of her being in the room three hours; I don't know where Mr. Peter Strong was at that time; I can say nothing more of the intercourse at Newtown; I recollect Mrs. Strong was in Edward's room, and the servants informed me of it. (Objected to and ruled out.) We all staid in the hall sorting clothes; this prevented Mrs. Strong's leaving the room; we were in the hall about three hours; soon after Mr. Peter Strong's carriage was heard coming, she left the room and came up stairs quite excited; she went into the room and locked it after her; I saw her; it was about 6 o'clock when Peter returned; he sometimes came at 2, sometimes at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Cram—Did you ever see a signal used?

Mr. McKeon—Now, I object to this style of queries, and it's time the court should interfere and take charge of the matter.

Evidence resumed—I knew Mrs. Strong to make a sign by coughing going down stairs, and Mr. Edward Strong's door was opened immediately; it happened very often; Edward had the lock of his door repaired; it was at Newtown;

IN TWENTY-FIRST-STREET,

Edward Strong was sometimes at the house before he left for the war for some days; he always staid when he came on furlough in December, 1861; he went to the war shortly before the furlough; they used to walk out together same as they did before; they remained out a good while; Edward occupied room No. 8 on exhibit No. 2, the front bedroom; on one occasion some one asked for Mrs. Strong, and the waiter asked me to tell her some one wanted to see her, I went to her room and she was not there; I then went to Edward's room, to see if he was there; the door was open and I called him; he did not answer, and I walked in, but did not see him; I wanted to go to my room, and found the door locked; I went down and told the waiter I could find neither of them; when I went up I saw Mrs. Strong standing in her room, dressing; I went to my room and found it unlocked, and saw Edward in his room; his door was open and I could see him; in my own room the bed was disarranged, as if it had been occupied; it had not been opened, only pressed upon; I slept there the night before and made up the bed in the morning; I went right down again, and met Mrs. Strong with an inkstand in her hand, which she was carrying to my room; when I went back to my room it was arranged again; I always made up my own bed; I did not arrange it on this occasion; the servants did not, to my knowledge, make up the bed; Mrs. Strong never before touched my bed; I recollect when Edith died; it was the 2d of January; the funeral was on the 4th; Mr. Strong slept with Mrs. Strong up to this time; after that he slept in the little dressing-room adjoining No. 5; on the Sunday after the funeral the change was made; I was called up stairs to assist in moving a bed into the dressing-room; the cook assisted; they always slept together at Newtown, so far as I knew; Mr. Strong slept in the little bedroom as long as I was there; during the Winter they sat separate, although before Edith's death they used to be together a great deal; I saw Mr. Strong leave the dinner-table suddenly, or not sit with her at the table at all.

Mr. Cram desired to ascertain from the witness the manner of the plaintiff toward the defendant after the change of the bed.

Mr. Graham objected.

The court admitted the question.

Mr. Graham objected. Exception noted.

Evidence resumed—I noticed their deportment before and after the change of beds; Mr. Strong was kind to his wife; I slept with Mrs. Strong sometimes in her room; it was after the change of beds.

To a Juror—Mrs. Strong told me that Mr. Strong changed his bed on account of the noise the children were making.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

By Mr. Graham—I went to West Sixteenth-street, No. 111, where I left Mr. Strong; my friend's name is Ondessant; I staid there till Spring; I boarded there; I gave private lessons; I went to Islip after that with Mr. Johnson's family; I staid there while they did, till November, 1863; I then went to New-York and staid with my mother in Eighth-street, No. 17; I remained till May; I gave lessons; I then went to New-Rochelle with Mr. Potter's family; I staid there during the Summer; I came back in October; I returned to my mother's, and staid till May, 1865, giving lessons; in May I went to Hoboken, No. 215 Bloomfield-place, and still live there with my mother; I first saw Mr. Strong after I left him at the house in Twenty-first-street, in a few days; I went to answer a note, and saw Mr. and Mrs. Strong; I talked with them together; I next saw Mrs. Strong about a year ago before Christmas; I had not seen him between those times; no one had been to see me in his behalf, nor had I heard from him; I saw him at my mother's at this time in the day time; he was alone; I had heard of the difficulties, but not of the suit; I think Mrs. Johnston told him where I lived; his object in calling me, he said, was to know if I knew about Mrs. Strong's behavior with Mr. Edward; my sister was there, but no one heard our conversation; he did not say he wanted to be private; I told him about his wife what I have stated here to-day; he did not ask me to swear to anything; I have not sworn to anything before to-day; I have not been to a lawyer's office to tell him what I knew; Mr. Strong has not seen me again; Mr. Cram called upon me in relation to this matter a week or two afterward; he came alone, and told me who he was; I knew he had charge of Mr. Strong's case; he called on me twice; once again last Spring, in Hoboken; he stayed the first time about an hour, and wrote down what I said; he came provided with paper; he asked me a great many questions, and I said about the same that I have said to-day; he said at the next time, that a suit was to come off; he told me I need not come unless I chose to; I did not agree to come, so that I could be subpenaed; I never heard anything about that; I have been subpenaed three times; they gave me fifty cents each time; I don't know who served it; it was a man; the first time was in Hoboken; the second time, also, by a young man; he gave me fifty cents or a dollar; the third time was about a week ago, at Mr. Cram's office; Mr. Cram sent for me; I thought I was wanted in court; I have been home every night; this is the third day I have been here from the opening of the court each day; I was home on Friday at three o'clock; no promise of compensation has been made; I have received no money and am content with what I have received for my subpenaes; I never swore to a paper in a private office; I have not looked after witnesses for Mr. Strong; I have never gone after servants; have not sent for them; the waitress I have seen, but I have forgotten whether I sent for her or she chanced in; she came in to see me in Eighth-street a year ago; we talked about an hour; she knew about this case; it was about a week after Mr. Strong called; she did not call the same day with Mr. Cram; we talked about the case; I did not tell her what I had told Mr. Strong; I offered her no inducements to be a witness, nor that I had received money and she could too; I said nothing about her being a witness; I have not gone out to hunt for witnesses, nor sent the names of any but Alice O'Grady to the counsel; I sent it some time after I saw her to Mr. Cram; no one asked me to; I sent it of my own accord by my brother; he lived with us; his name is Her. mann; his business is at Fourteenth-street and Fourth-avenue; I do not know how he sent it, but I think by a porter; I wanted to avoid my appearing in court, and thought she would be better informed than I; I did not think of separating man and wife; I would not volunteer to strangers, but having an interest in the parties, I would; no one has been promised money for me; the jury must understand that I am not promised any compensation; I thought it my duty to appear, as I was called; I did not tell Mr. Strong of the occurrence at the time; I thought of it; I did not tell the mother nor any of them; I did not tell Mrs. Strong what I had seen; when I left, I told Mrs. Strong that the servant knew about it; I left of my own accord, and she paid me; she wanted me to stay, and that made some unpleasant talk; we did not separate exactly good friends; I heard something of the criminal trial; I did not hear of it before I read of it; I don't know who paid the servants; she had money for household expenses; I know nothing about their money matters; I was paid every month; I received $15 a month, and was always paid by Mrs. Strong.

A recess was then taken of thirty minutes, on suggestion of Mr. Willets, after which the case went on.

Cross-examination resumed—I think we went to Lennox in July and returned in the Fall; Edward was not there; I first saw Edward when we returned from Lennox, at Waverley, I think; we staid there about a month before we went to Twenty-first-street; don't remember the month; Peter was not away every day, but many days; he used to leave about nine and come back either at two or six; it was a general thing for him; he was not away the best part of his time; he always returned at one or other of those hours; I thought he had business here; I don't know what; he kept several horses; he drove off in the morning; Edward kept two horses; Peter often drove his wife out in the carriage; I can't say how many times: sometimes I went with them; it was to church at Newtown; Edward did not drive with them to church; they drove sometimes to Astoria; they certainly drove out as many as twelve times; they drove sometimes to the city; I saw Mrs. Strong drive out with Edward; Edward's "establishment" was driven up to the door and away; Edward and Mrs. Strong drove out very often on week days; I never saw any of the other ladies ride with him; the "establishment" consisted of an open light wagon; he had one with two seats; the wagon had two horses; don't remember their color; the driver was a black man, and dressed in livery; he had one servant; he generally drove himself; don't know the driver's name, and have not seen him since I left; there was nothing to prevent the driver's seeing or hearing them; the driver generally went with them; don't remember seeing Peter walk with his wife; can't state any amusement he furnished Mrs. Strong; I think he took her in the boat with the children once; he went on the boat fishing sometimes; he went with his little girls; I don't know where they sat at the table; I didn't take my meals with them, and could not notice their habits; don't remember Peter's helping his wife into Edward's carriage: have seen her riding horseback with Edward when Peter saw her.

Question by Mr. Willetts, a Juror—Did you know what horses belonged to Peter and what to Edward?

Answer—No, Sir.

Cross-examination resumed—She was fond of horseback riding; (to a juror) Mr. Strong never refused her a horse when she wanted one; they used to go skating; the whole family went; I don't know whether Peter went; I have seen him kiss her; don't know how often; there was nothing peculiar about it; he kissed her when he went to town; saw him kiss his children often.

Mr. Cram objected to Mr. Graham's asking what practical exhibition of tenderness the witness had noticed.

Mr. Graham contended that if a man neglected his wife and threw her in the way of another, he was a party to her fall, and if Mrs. Strong wanted horses, when her husband owned them, and he refused them, it was cruelty and neglect on his part, and would be part of her defence. Woman, he said, is so made that she must be loved by some one, and if not by her husband quite likely she would find it elsewhere.

Mr. Cram—But in this case you know you deny the "[illegible]."

Judge Garvin—Let the case go on. Did you notice any evidence of affection on his part?

[illegible]—Yes, Sir, I remember his putting his arm about her, and walking up and down the hall; I don't remember the time; the nurse may have seen her, but I can't say; I saw Mrs. Strong leave Edward's room in the evening about 6 o'clock; I don't remember the month; the gas was lighted; it must have been dark; it must have been at this time of year; the family were in the house; there were Mrs. Aletta Strong, Benjamin and his wife, Edward, Peter and his wife, three children, nurse, perhaps the Lynch family, myself, Mrs. Strong's maid, a colored boy, coachman and waiter; there were several coachmen, three besides that of old Mrs. Strong's; I was on the stairs when Mrs. Strong left Edward's room; she was coming up stairs; I met no person nor saw any; don't remember about the doors or lights; I don't know whether any one was in the other rooms or not; Edward's door was open when she came out; I made no unusual noise; the stairways were bare; she turned her face away from me to the wall and did not speak to me; there was a light in the hall of the second story; it was in the centre and was a gaslight; it was near Edward's room opposite his door; I went down, as usual; I was on the stairs which ran down at the side of his room; the end of the stairs are quite near his door; I was about six steps up; I never saw any of the other ladies in Edward's room; did not see him in the other rooms; should not have thought anything wrong if I had seen them; can't say there was much visiting among the families; I had charge of the children and was with them most of the time; Mrs. Strong's room had a Turkish carpet, a writing table, a bureau and chairs; there were pictures, but no guns, pistols, javelins, &c.; the ceiling of the room was low; I don't know that it was very hot; my room was cool in Summer; never heard any complaints of the room; never heard any doctor say anything about it; never heard of Dr. Trask; don't remember any doctor being there; there was no illness that I remember; the commenced between 3 and 4 o'clock; I saw Edward go up to his room after dinner; I did not see Mrs. Strong go in or come out; I cannot swear if I did not see her, but I am moraly certain she was in there; at the time of sorting clothes there were four of us; there were three nurses and myself; we were sorting the clothes from the wash; there were a great many; it was clothing of the week; there might have been 150 pieces; I don't know how many there were of mine; the girls wanted to keep watch of the door; we were not sorting all the time; we began after dinner; it was a short afternoon; it was after I saw Mrs. Strong first come out of Edward's room; I can't remember the time very well; I have not seen any of the servants here; I saw one of them since I left Waverley; have never sent her address to the counsel; I did not intend to send any other addresses; have never advised or persuaded her to be a witness; did not see her go in or come out of the room; I can't swear of course; never heard any other lady there cough that I remember; I suppose they may have coughed, but don't remember; I heard her very often on the stairs; can't remember when Edward came to Twenty-first-street; don't remember the first time he came; don't know who he came with, nor do I remember anything about it; don't know that Mrs. Strong gave orders not to admit him; Edward sometimes slept there; he was in uniform, but don't know whether it was the first time or not; Peter was at home; he came and went; I think he went out regularly and came back; I was in the nursery most of the time except about two or three hours; can't say exactly how long Peter was in the house; I staid in the nursery until lesson time; then I gave lessons for two hours, and staid there the rest of the time unless I walked out with the children; I think Edward was gone a few weeks; he returned I think before Christmas; he and Peter were together in the house at dinner-time; don't know that Edward was there against Peter's will; Edward and Mrs. Strong walked out in the day-time; don't know whether he was in regimentals or not; I once saw them walk down toward Fourth-avenue; don't know how far; Peter was not at home when they went out; I think I can say he was not in the parlors nor in the second story; I could see them from the nursery bedroom; the door was always open; I don't think I can be mistaken about it; I could not see in the little bedroom; the street door-bell rang about 3 o'clock in the afternoon; the waiter was cleaning silver in the closet and I was near her; Alice was the waiter girl of whom we have been speaking; she told me to tell Mrs. Strong a caller was there, she could not leave the silver; there were four servants; the nursed was changed frequently, also the waitress; the nurse was perhaps out with the children, but I don't know; the servants were in the habit of going up and down stairs; the waitress remained with her silver; I don't know how long she kept at it; I mentioned my seeing Edward and Mrs. Strong to Alice on that day, probably as soon as I went down stairs; it was after our dinner, not after the family dinner; they dined at four or six; I tried my door; I don't remember that I knocked; I could have gone through Edward's room, but the door was locked while he slept there; I can't swear that the door was locked at this particular time; I suppose I tried it, but I don't remember; I won't swear that there was any fastening on it; I knew no one had a right to be in my room, but I did not ask who was there; I don't remember Mrs. Strong's attempting to commit suicide in that house; nor that she sent for me to get her mother, except when Dr. Watson was called in; we had then been there several months; I never heard anything about a suicide; I was sent for Mrs. Stevens once after Edward had been there and I met her on the stairs; I never heard of any excitement about a suicide, nor that Mrs. Hecksher came there; nor anything about laudanum being taken; I can't swear that Peter slept in the side room any nights except when I slept there; the door may have been locked; I think the funeral was on Saturday: it was the 4th of January; the bed was brought down from the third story; I don't know, however; I saw no new bedstead nor bedding brought there; the cook and the waitress, I think, put up the bed; I don't know who else was there; I was told by Mrs. Strong it was to be put there; it was, I think, the same day, not before; I can't swear Mr. and Mrs. Strong occupied the same bed in Waverley; Mr. Strong was greatly affected by Edith's death; he had a likeness taken after her death, and often talked about it, and seemed to be thinking on it very much; I slept with Mrs. Strong three or four nights after Edith's death; it was about two months after her death; Mrs. Strong was ill; she had a miscarriage; Mrs. Stevens was there; I don't know how long she stayed there—probably not over night; I have seen Mad. Barbier; she was there after Mrs. Stevens was there; the next day I don't know whether Mrs. Stevens was there or not; she was there to attend Mrs. Strong, I suppose; she came after Dr. Watson came there; I don't know whether it was the same night or next day; Mrs. Hecksher called once; she saw me; I was sent down to prevent her going up; Mrs. Strong suggested it to her mother; I did not then see Peter Strong; he was in the country at the time; he came home in the evening; I don't know that he went for Mad. Barbier; I think he was there when the birth took place; I was told it occurred the next day; I don't, however, know; Mrs. Strong's health had been pretty good; after that it was not as good.

Mr. CRAM objected that this was all irrelevant; and to Mr. GRAHAM's question as to whether the ill health was the result of the "abortion," he protested.

Pending the settlement, the Judge said that, as the hour of 4:30 was reached, he would adjourn until 10 o'clock to-day, and the court adjourned. The patience of the jury was well tried by the long session, and the trial promises to be one of the longest, as well as one of the most important, of its kind. The clerk and officers of the court preserved excellent order throughout, and were most courteous to the members of the press, who were in attendance in great numbers from the metropolitan and rural journals. Mr. A. F. WARBURTON, the official reporter, repeated, by direction of the court, a great portion of Miss MUSSEHL's evidence.

ANOTHER SWINDLING GAME.

A Brilliant Lottery Speculation.

Some days since a female operative in one of the numerous mills situate in Paterson, N. J., received a parcel of circulars embodying a scheme for the award of prizes, by an association entitled the "National Protective Union." This scheme of prizes was a very flattering one, the "capital" cash prize being no less than $5,000, with a "special" cash prize of $2,000, and a "surplus" prize of $1,000. These three magnificent prizes were attended by a troop of smaller prizes, ranging from $500 down. Inclosed with this attractive schedule was a specimen ticket, and all the necessary directions for obtaining any quantity of these tickets, and considerable gratuitous information regarding the modus operandi of the "Union" setting forth so dazzling a scheme for speedy wealth.

The ticket was similar to lottery checks, being seven inches long by two in width, neatly printed in fine colors, on stout white paper. The whole ticket was "worth" $20, but if desired it might be cut in two, each half selling for $10. The purchaser on paying for the ticket, would receive a trustee's receipt for the amount paid. In a note directed to agents the prospectus offered 20 per cent. commission on all sales of tickets, and gave the most minute instructions regarding the direction of letters to the Union. In conclusion, the circular stated that "if convenient, the directors would prefer to have you send the price of the tickets before the day of drawing, although it is not absolutely necessary; but all letters containing orders must be mailed on or before the day of drawing." Such was the substance of this precious circular. We now come to the later developments.

A day or two after, the young girl received a second communication, evidently from the same source, inclosing a catalogue of prizes drawn on "Wednesday, Nov. 22," which catalogue it appeared that the ticket she had already received had drawn a prize of $200. But it was then past the day of drawing, so that the "lucky chance had slipped away," and she could not pay for the ticket, even if she would. But a chance was offered her in a written and confidential note, inclosed in the same envelope. This note purported to be from one of the special agents of the concern, and it directed her to date her note "Nov. 22"—the day of the supposed drawing—and say "that she could not sell any tickets, but would try one herself, and if fortunate, she was in hopes of being able to sell some next time." After writing this she was told to inclose $20 for the ticket; but, if she preferred, she might send $10 for half a ticket. The writer stated that, by proper management, he thought that matters could be so arranged that she might get the greater part, if not the whole, of the "prize money," as the trustees, before whom she would have to open the letter, would suppose she had written it on the 22d inst.

Here, indeed, was the actual scheme, that of getting the hard earnings of a poor working-girl, without the slightest show of a return. A more pitiless attempt at rascality has rarely been made, and one not readily successful except with inexperienced girls. Still there can be no doubt that this swindling scheme has succeeded in a large number of cases. In the present instance the girl was about forwarding the much desired $20, when she fortunately consulted a friend, who sensibly advised her to keep her money where she could be assured of its safety.

The list of officers of the "National Protective Union," as published on one of the circulars, is as follows: President, Hon. Lemuel H. Goodrich, Vernon, Conn.; Vice-President, Jacob P. Hoffman, Esq., Concord, Conn.; Trustees, Chester D. Beckett, Vernon, Conn.; Chas. P. Heasler, Manchester, Conn.; John A. McDowell, Concord, Conn.; Treasurer, D. D. Whipple, Esq., Vernon, Conn.; Secretary, Alex. P. B. Banks, Vernon, Conn.

THE BROOKLYN MURDER.

Gonzalez Affected at Sight of the Murdered Man—He is Identified by Capt. Peterson, of the Bark Thomas—Who Otero Was—The Inquest and the Funeral.

Both GONZALEZ and PELLICIER, the alleged murderers of OTERO, are still held in irons by Capt. WADDY, in the Myrtle-avenue Police-station, Brooklyn. They stood up stoutly until yesterday morning, maintaining a dogged stubbornness, and seemingly entertaining some hope of escape from the awful weight of evidence that Capt. WADDY and his officers have accumulated against them; but yesterday morning they broke down, and so sensibly was GONZALEZ affected, that for a time he was unable to stand erect in his cell. He was yesterday morning, in a close coach, accompanied by Capt. WADDY and an officer. The visit was made as secretly as possible; nevertheless, at the undertaker's, a number of persons having recognized Capt. WADDY, the inference was at once drawn that one of his companions was the murderer, and naturally quite a throng soon gathered in the street; but there was no disturbance. On catching a glimpse of the corpse, GONZALEZ blanched and turned away; and when drawn near the body he shuddered, but uttered not a word. He was almost immediately removed in the Masonic Building, in Fulton-street, and here—as had been previously done in the case of PELLICIER—his photograph was taken by Mr. WILLIAMSON. As at the undertaker's, so here, a multitude collected in front of the doors, and before Capt. WADDY was ready to take his departure, the multitude had been augmented to the number of more than a thousand persons, and it was with no little difficulty that Capt. WADDY replaced his prisoner in the coach. He was then rapidly whirled off to the Forty-fourth Precinct Police-station, and remanded to his cell in the basement. Yesterday afternoon,

CAPT. J. PETERSON,

of No. 1,703 South Sixth-street, Philadelphia, master of the bark Thomas, appeared at the Forty-fourth Precinct Station-house and identified both GONZALEZ and the old garments which he cast aside on the morning following the murder, and which Capt. WADDY's men seized on Saturday evening in the sleeping chamber which GONZALEZ had occupied in the German boarding-house, at No. 217 Centre-street. There was blood on the right coat-sleeve, blood on the shirt, blood spattered on the pantaloons, and blood in one of the pockets into which GONZALEZ, after committing the murder, thrust his hand. Having also identified GONZALEZ, Capt. PETERSON went to view the body of OTERO, and this also he identified. He then returned to the Myrtle-avenue Police-station, and there made concerning his knowledge of the murderer and the murdered. Captain PETERSON has been eighteen years in the Cuban trade, sailing from New-York to Cardenas. In both cities he has a large circle of acquaintances, particularly among commercial men. He knew OTERO in Cardenas as the keeper of a confectionery, restaurant and billiard saloon, and he says that OTERO was highly respected there. Last year OTERO drew a capital prize of $25,000 in the Royal Havana Lottery, and not $10,000 as was at first reported. With this money he undertook to erect a new theatre capable of seating 216 persons in the parquet; and he had progressed so far with this enterprise that at the time of his departure for New-York only the furniture and a few trifling fittings for the interior were needed to complete the house. He had expended nearly $20,000 on the theatre, and had only about $5,000 available funds left; but this he conceived to be sufficient, and with it he came to New-York. On board the Havana steamship he made the acquaintance of GONZALEZ, a Havanese rectifier, who had been thrown out of employment by the burning of a distillery, and who was bound for New-York to seek a position, as the TIMES has already said. Arriving in this city, OTERO sought Capt. PETERSON and arranged for the transportation of his purchases to Cuba, and the Captain being well acquainted in the city OTERO secured his services as a guide. GONZALEZ appears to have dogged his steps until, desiring to try the Philadelphia market, he accompanied the Captain to Philadelphia. GONZALEZ tarried behind during this trip, and spent most of his time in the Barcelona Hotel and at the Hotel de Cuba. In Philadelphia OTERO priced thirty-six iron columns for the interior of his theatre, and bade Capt. PETERSON purchase a sewing-machine for his (OTERO's) sister-in-law in Cardenas. This machine was brought to this city yesterday, and stowed in the hold of Capt. PETERSON's vessel, at her pier at the foot of Dover-street.

Capt. PETERSON, a Philadelphian, felt a pardonable pride in his own city, and took pleasure in showing OTERO its lions—the chief of which, in the stranger's opinion, was a huge bomb-shell in the Navy-yard labeled "Old Abe's Physic." The pleasantry having been explained to him, he seemed very much amused, and declared it the best thing in Philadelphia. Capt. PETERSON and OTERO returned to New-York on Monday, and Tuesday and Wednesday further pricing was done about town. At Messrs. CHESTER & PARTRIDGE's, OTERO ordered 216 seats for the parquet of his theatre, and 14 dozen single chairs for other parts of the house. He bought a suit of clothing of Messrs. BROOKS BROTHERS, and a new hat of KNOX, in Broadway; but having found more favorable terms in Philadelphia, for the purchase of iron work, he resolved to go there again and buy the iron columns which he wanted to support the boxes in his theatre; and thither he was to have gone on Thursday morning last. On Wednesday last GONZALEZ accompanied Capt. PETERSON and OTERO about town, and when the Captain, at the site of the old museum, bade them adieu at nightfall, GONZALEZ went with OTERO up Broadway. The rest is known.

OTERO was an unmarried man, and his sole known relatives are his brother's widow and children, who dwell in Cardenas.

THE FUNERAL

is to take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Church of Our Lady of Mercy—Rev. Father McKENNA's—in Debevoise-street, Brooklyn, under the direction of the acting Spanish Consul, Mr. LUIZ LOPEZ DE ARZE, and other gentlemen. Cubans and others who may wish to join in this last testimonial of respect for the dead are invited to assemble at the Barcelona Hotel, No. 23 Great Jones-street, before 1 o'clock this afternoon. The remains are to be deposited in a receiving-tomb and held to await instructions from Cardenas.

PELLICIER, OR LORENZO GENEZ,

as his real name turns out to be, has been recognized by the police as a person who has often been seen in New-York and Brooklyn, lounging around the piers. Roundsman PATRICK T. MULDOON, of Capt. BRACKETT's force, saw him yesterday, in the Myrtle-avenue Police Station, and identified him as a wharf-lounger that he had frequently seen on the Havana steamship pier, and several of Capt. WADDY's men believe that they have seen him in Brooklyn. Besides, he has been a seafaring man, and as such would have been likely to know the riparian sections of both Brooklyn and New-York. So his story of his quite recent arrival here appears to be exploded, and the theory of a third person having been engaged in the tragedy cannot longer be founded upon PELLICIER's ignorance of Brooklyn geography, for he undoubtedly knew the Navy-yard section of the city well; and when he and GONZALEZ and OTERO started from the Hotel de Cuba in New-York, PELLICIER well knew whither he was to pilot the party.

THE INQUEST

is to be commenced at 1 o'clock this afternoon, by Coroner LYNCH, at the Coroner's office in the new Brooklyn Court-house. There are few witnesses to be examined, and as the evidence is clear and damning against both PELLICIER and GONZALEZ, it is not improbable that the case, so far as the Coroner is concerned, may be completed to-night. Coroner LYNCH will immediately send the papers to the Grand Jury, and the District-Attorney of Kings County will press the case to trial at the present term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Complaint Against a Broadway Saloon—A Civil Action to Recover Damages.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—NOV. 27.

Before Justice Peckham.

Rachel Eberle vs. Seabury Brewster, Edward A. Simonson and Andrew Coffee.—This action, which was brought to recover the sum of $5,000, has been in part already reported. The trial was commenced last week, but owing to the absence of material witnesses, it was adjourned over until yesterday, when it was resumed before Mr. Justice PECKHAM and a jury.

The plaintiff in her complaint alleges, and during the trial she has produced witnesses to show, that on the 5th of May, 1864, she and the defendant, Coffee, entered into a written covenant with Seabury Brewster, the owner of the premises No. 627 Broadway, whereby the former agreed to let to plaintiff and Coffee the front room on the first loft of said No. in Broadway until the 1st of May, 1865, at a yearly rent of $1,200, payable monthly, in advance. The premises to be used by plaintiff and Coffee as a place for the manufacture and sale of ladies' corsets, hoop skirts and stocking supporters, and for no other purpose. In November following, Coffee, the cotenant, withdrew from the concern, and plaintiff Eberle carried on the business alone. Brewster, as we have said, was the owner, and defendant Simonson the lessee of the basement, and some other portions of the building, where he carried on the saloon business in all its branches. The complaint alleges that Simonson kept what is commonly known in New-York as a "pretty waiter-girl saloon;" also, "that the defendant, Brewster," we quote the language of the complaint, "permitted and allowed the defendant, Simonson, to, and he did establish in said building, in the rear room of the second-story, opening from an ante-room, and also in the third-story of said building, an unlawful, licentious and scandalous establishment, under the name and sign of 'The Reveille,' consisting of saloons for male customers, where liquors, cigars and refreshments are sold and consumed, and the attendants are girls of light character, who mingle and drink familiarly with the customers, and sit with them at the tables; that said Edward A. Simonson, by such authority and permission of the said Brewster, decorated parts of said building gaily and expensively, in order to make such establishment attractive, placed a large, distinct, and conspicuous sign in gilt letters on the wall of the said ante-room, directly opposite the plaintiff's door thus: "Positively no ladies admitted during business hours," and set up the title 'Reveille' in gas lights over the street entrance by which the said demised premises are entered as aforesaid; that said establishment was first opened and used on the 19th day of December, 1864, at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and thenceforth was opened daily at about 6:30 to 7 o'clock in the afternoon, and kept open through the evening, and the same immediately was and continued to be, resorted to by numerous men, and to be provided with numerous girls of the character above-mentioned, and conducting as above described; that said establishment is of the class commonly called and known as 'pretty waiter girl saloons;' that shortly before opening said establishment, said Simonson advertised in the New-York Herald of Dec. 19, 1864, as follows:

WANTED—Fifty young ladies of pleasing address, to wait on tables. Apply, for three days, from 1 to 3 P. M., at the Reveille, No. 627 Broadway, up stairs, second floor.

That great numbers of girls of bad character being thus called, came to said establishment in the business hours of the plaintiff, and went up and down said stairs and through said ante-room; that after said establishment was opened, said Edward A. Simonson had in use for the girls in his employment therein a set of printed rules and regulations, from which the following are extracts:

'Miss—You will please take notice that from this date no girl will be admitted to the saloon after 7½ o'clock to commence work, under any circumstances whatever.

No girl will be allowed to stay at home more than one night each week without forfeiting two nights' salary for each extra night she is absent; and no girl will be allowed to stay at home Saturday nights, as by so doing she will forfeit her situation, unless she can give satisfactory evidence of her being compelled to stay away on account of sickness.

No girl will be allowed to get intoxicated, or swear, or use obscene language, or to speak disrespectfully to or of each other during business hours.

N. B.—All girls employed in this establishment are instructed to politely ask gentlemen visiting the saloon to refrain from whistling, or singing, or laying of feet on tables, or engaging in loud and angry discussions, or doing anything that may have a tendency to disturb the peace and quietness of the establishment during business hours.

N. B.—No ladies will be allowed to visit the establishment during business hours, except those employed therein.'

That said Edward A. Simonson advertised his establishment in a newspaper as follows:

Jan. 15, 1865.

A GREAT SUCCESS.—The Reveille, No. 627 Broadway, the only popular place of resort. Polite attention and a pleasant evening guaranteed to all who visit the Reveille, No. 627 Broadway, up stairs.

E. A. SIMONSON, Proprietor.

Also as follows:

Jan. 14, 1865.

A POPULAR PLACE OF RESORT.—The Reveille. The Reveille. The Reveille. The only place of the kind in the city. The Reveille. The Reveille. Polite attention is shown at the Reveille. The Reveille. Reveille. A pleasant evening can be spent at the Reveille. The Reveille. The Reveille. No. 627 Broadway. No. 627 Broadway. No. 627 Broadway. Up stairs. Up stairs. Up stairs.

E. A. SIMONSON, Proprietor.

The plaintiff further showed to the court that after Simonson opened his establishment, he was in the daily habit of carrying up and down stairs oysters, bottles and boxes, step-ladders, brushes, &c., to the great hindrance and injury of plaintiff's business; that by reason of Simonson's establishment, the obstructions on the stairs, the signs in the building and the acts and doings of Simonson and his girls, the plaintiff's customers, nearly all of whom were ladies, were driven away, and her business was wholly ruined. She therefore seeks to recover damages from the defendants, Brewster and Simonson.

The defence of Brewster is that the whole premises were leased by him to a third party, who sublet them to Simonson, and hence, even if the latter's establishment was of a bad character, and the plaintiff suffered in consequence, he cannot be made liable. Simonson's defence is that the place he kept was of the very highest and most irreproachable kind, and some evidence has been offered with a view of sustaining that position. The case was not concluded when the court adjourned.

Important Opinion Relative to the City Funds.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—NOV. 27.

The People on the Relation of James Dennis, et al., vs. Brennan, Comptroller, &c.

OPINION.

I think that the defendant was justified in paying the salary now demanded by the relator to the actual incumbent of the office, during the period in question. The Special and General Terms of this court decided that the Commissioners, who appointed him, were themselves legally appointed. Before this decision was reversed by the Court of Appeals, and while it was operative as the law, and, consequently binding upon him, the defendant paid to the incumbent, the money which had been appropriated, and which was then in the Treasury for such payment. If he was justified in doing this, he cannot be compelled to pay the relator out of the public money under his control. There is no appropriation for such payment; and consequently, there is no money in the Treasury for this specific purpose. It would be a violation of law for the Comptroller to take money appropriated for some other purpose and apply it to this. I cannot direct, much less compel him to do what would amount to an infringement of his duty and of the law. Whatever other remedies the relator may have, if he has any, this application cannot in my opinion be granted. Motion for a mandamus denied.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Judge Russel.

David Bartlett, who had previously served a term in the State Prison, was tried for burglary in the third degree, in having entered the premises No. 125 Macdougal-street, the 16th of last August.

The complainant, Francis W. Cooper, testified that the day in question he locked the store and went to tea; returned at half-past seven; saw that the premises were securely fastened and left a dog within; next morning he found the back door opened; the boxes which contained the goods strewn over the floor, the dog dead, and a jimmy at the rear entrance. The goods taken consisted of silverware amounting to about $3,000. The 10th of July the prisoner came into the store and asked the witness to buy some silver; witness said he was not in the habit of buying from strangers; prisoner called again ten days afterward and said he would not sell his silver, but wanted witness to make up some for him; witness did not see him again until the night when the burglary took place; he then passed the store about 6½ o'clock, as witness was locking the safe.

Catharine Maloon, living at No. 117 Amity-street, testified that at half-past eight, of the evening of the 16th, she saw the prisoner and another man standing on Amity-street, near Macdougal; asked them what they wanted, to which they replied, they were waiting for a man up stairs in the laundry; she went up and found the boss was the only man there; came down and found them there still; Bartlett then said: "Come, let's go round the corner," which they did; witness retired about nine o'clock; awoke about three; heard a dog bark; came down about five in the morning, and found the premises as above stated.

The defence attempted to prove an alibi, and brought witnesses who testified to seeing the prisoner at the time in a liquor-store, corner of Eighteenth-street and Avenue A.

The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was remanded.

SENTENCES.

At the opening of the court, District-Attorney Bedford moved for sentence in the case of William Keefe, who had been convicted of murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to the State Prison for life. The following persons, who had pleaded guilty or been convicted, were also sentenced: Charles Ferret, burglary in the third degree, State Prison one year; John Clark, assault with a dangerous weapon, fined $50; James McGrath and William McDermott, petit larceny from the person, State prison two years; James Cummiski, assault with a dangerous weapon, fined six cents; Peter H. Yang, fined six cents.

The Deposit line and the amount of Legal Tender held by the banks are up about two millions since last Monday. And the Currency and Gold balances in the Treasury Office are up about eight millions. These are signs of a favorable Domestic Exchange in the direction of New-York. The Legal-Tender Notes held in bank alone are close on to fifty millions. The other departments of the bank return also favor a steady, if not an easier, Money Market. The leading National Banks in this city are gradually availing of the profits of a liberal circulation which the system affords to the associations of large capital.

The market for Money to the Brokers worked easy but dull to-day, at 7 ₱ cent. The amount of borrowing for Stock Exchange account is not large, as may be seen from the moderate volume of transactions. Lenders accept 6 ₱ cent. from the heavy dealers in Government Securities, where they cannot do better.

Some use was made on the Stock Exchange and in the Gold Room of the reported disturbance on the Rio Grande. The price of Gold was made firm in the afternoon, and Exchange on London for the Persia was held for 109¼@109½ ₱ cent., but without much business thus far; Paris, f.5 17½ to the dollar. No later European advices had been received on the Street to the close of 'Change hours. The City of Baltimore, with news to the 15th inst., is due, and the Scotia, with news to the 19th, is looked for early on Wednesday.

On the Stock Exchange, the Government Securities were depressed ⅛@¼ ₱ cent., and the Railway Speculation, after starting on firm prices in the morning, fell off at the Second Board, and sold generally lower than on Saturday. The movement in Northwest Shares was especially revered, the Common Stock being done at 35½ ₱ cent. The Miscellaneous Shares were fairly supported.

At 4 o'clock the following quotations were made, as compared with the latest sales of Saturday. The Railway list left off steadier than on the breaking up of the Second Board. Gold was up to 147⅝ ₱ cent. The Miscellaneous Stocks fairly supported.

The receipts of Grain through the Erie Canal at tide water, since the opening of navigation on the 1st of May, compare as follows with the season of 1864, the item of Flour being reduced to the equivalent of Wheat:

Bushels.	1865. Since May 1.	1864. Since May 1.
Wheat	12,659,200	19,727,900
Corn	16,406,400	9,192,400
Barley	3,643,600	2,547,500
Oats	9,389,300	10,524,400
Rye	974,800	550,700
Total bushels	43,073,300	42,542,900

The falling off in Wheat from the West is partially made up by the receipts of Flour by railway. The number of Flour mills in the West is annually on the increase, owing to the facility of marketing Flour on the seaboard by rail at all seasons of the year.

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States was as follows: Receipts, $1,792,830 49; including for Customs, $350,000; payments, $1,774,069 43; on account of Loan, $200,000; balance, $63,198,810 57; Coin certificates, $84,200.

Government Securities at Home and Abroad.

From the Financial Chronicle, Nov. 25.

From some cause a disposition appears in certain quarters to take a gloomy view of our national finances, to overrate the pressure of our stupendous debt, and to underrate the strength by which the burden has to be borne. A few desponding statesmen and querulous writers tell us that we have destroyed a vast amount of our wealth in the war, but they close their eyes to the impulse which the war has given to our unrivaled wealth-producing powers. They complain of the inconvenient form in which a part of the debt has been placed; but they forget that during the war we laughed at the croakers, who showed us far more formidable difficulties, and that we not only surmounted these difficulties but changed them into financial triumphs. In view of present facts we wonder at the mistakes of those great men who declared a century ago that it had been better for England to have succumbed before Prussia or Austria than to be burdened with the interest of 140 millions sterling, and urged that a very small addition to this debt would be fatal. For we see that by taxes the England of to-day can raise every two years the whole amount of her then debt, and can still enable Mr. GLADSTONE to tell the people that their burdens per capita are reduced every year. The pressure of a nation's debt, then, is to be measured not so much by what the people can bear at present, as by their prospective growth in wealth, in productive skill, in industrial resources, in numbers, in power, in inventive genius and in extent of territory.

If, however, we were so foolish as to doubt whether our National Securities, at present rates, offer investments for capital which are more lucrative and inviting than those of any other country, shrewd foreigners are deterred by no such fears. For several months past European capital has been funding itself in five-twenty bonds, with such eagerness that the advance in the rate of interest in Germany has been attributed in part to this cause, and even the coupons received here on Wednesday last by the China were sufficiently large in amount to affect the rates of foreign exchange.

We do not here raise the question as to how far it is desirable for our bonds to be held abroad. It is sufficient for the present purpose to note, as a fact to be considered in forecasting the future movements in the prices of our national securities, that whatever a few of our timorous capitalists may surmise, foreign financiers, equally with the masses of our own people, have full confidence in these securities, and in the prosperous destiny reserved for the future of our free republic.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

The news from Matamoras, though of no later date, seems to confirm the report that the Imperial steamer Antonio had been fired upon from the Texas shore. The statement, though appearing in the Ranchero, the Imperialist paper, is explicit, to the effect that on the 7th inst., as the Antonio was pushing her way up the river under heavy fire from the Liberal forces, she grounded, and when in this plight, received a fire from the opposite side, and that the hostile party were dressed in the uniform of United States soldiers. Two marines were wounded. The Ranchero asserts that the Antonio did not return the fire, and laments the occurrence as threatening the peaceful relations of Mexico and the United States. It will be remembered that the reported firing by the Imperialists on some barges that had broken loose from the Texas shore, and supposed to be Yankee rams or hostile engines of some kind, was subsequent to the attack on the Antonio, on or about the 14th inst.

Advices from Vera Cruz to the 14th inst. reprepresent the condition of affairs in Mexico as extremely unsettled. Distrust prevails in every part of the country, and business is everywhere paralyzed. No respect is paid to the government of MAXIMILIAN. The roads are unsafe, and robberies are of daily occurrence. The reception of the Empress along the route of her journey to Yucatan was very tame, except in Vera Cruz, whence she was to depart on the 15th. Fifteen hundred reinforcements for MAXIMILIAN arrived at Vera Cruz on the 12th, and more were looked for. It is also reported that the Liberals were actively collecting at all points.

The Trenton Gazette says that Col. HAWKINS, of Tennessee, has prosecuted the editor of the Somerset (N. J.) Messenger for libel, laying his damages at $1,000. The Messenger published an article accusing Col. HAWKINS of cowardice, corruption and treason, in delivering up a post to an inferior force of rebels, and in commenting on this statement, abused Col. HAWKINS without stint. Before the election, a contradiction of the charge brought against Col. HAWKINS was published, while he was stumping New-Jersey in the interest of the Union candidates.

A suicide of a very painful character occurred in Philadelphia on Saturday night. The deceased, a foreigner by the name of HERMAN POWELL, carried on the sale of metallic packing and a patent coal-oil stove, of which he was the patentee. He was a man of considerable scientific ability, spoke several languages, and was accomplished as a musician. He was not successful in business, and had had some trouble with his partner, which is supposed to have had some connection with his sad fate. The day before he called on a woman near his store and asked for money to buy bread, saying that he was quite destitute. POWELL was unmarried, and had no relatives in this country.

On Friday afternoon, Rev. WILLIAM BARNES, the distinguished Methodist divine, fell on Walnut-street, Philadelphia, and died at 2 o'clock next morning, of congestion of the brain. At the time of his fall, Mr. BARNES had just left the District Court, where he had been a defendant in an action brought to recover the penalty imposed upon clergymen by an old act of Assembly for marriages between parties under age; but the jury were unable to agree upon a verdict, and on Saturday they were discharged.

The official returns from all the counties of Ohio, including the soldiers vote, are as follows: For Governor—COX, (Union,) 223,633; MORGAN, (Dem.,) 193,697—majority for the Union candidate, 29,936. ALEXANDER LONG received 360. The other candidates on the Union State ticket received a somewhat larger majority.

Nothing is yet heard of Mr. HUBBELL, the missing cashier of the Missisquoi Bank at St. Albans, Vt. His accounts at the bank are said to be correct, and as he left the International Hotel at New-York on the 9th, to take the cars for home, it is very much feared that he has met with foul play.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Supreme Court, Circuit, part two, Justice E. DARWIN SMITH, presiding, was engaged all day yesterday in the trial of the case of ANN CURRAN, Administratrix, &c., of MICHAEL CURRAN, deceased, vs. The Warren and Chemical Manufacturing Company. The defendants are a company organized for the purpose of refining petroleum and other oils. The deceased was employed by some boiler-makers to go to Hunter's Point, where defendants had an establishment, for the purpose of repairing a boiler. He worked inside the boiler for several hours, on the 13th of January last, and at noon went out to dinner, and was gone half an hour, leaving two Argand lamps burning inside. Immediately after entering, upon his return from dinner, he fell down and soon expired. The boiler in question, was, by means of some internal arrangements, connected with other boilers, and plaintiff claims that the poisonous gasses generated in the other boilers, were, by the negligence of the defendants' agents, allowed to enter the boiler in which deceased was at work. The action is brought by the mother of the deceased, and the claim is for $5,000, in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided. CURRAN having died intestate, plaintiff sues as administratrix. The case is still on trial.

Yesterday morning an inquest was held at the Frankfort House, corner of William and Frankfort streets, by Coroner GOVER, on the body of SAMUEL H. JORDAN, who had committed suicide by severing the ulner and brachial arteries of his right arm. The unfortunate man had committed the act by making an incision in the elbow joint with a common dessert knife, and was quite dead when found by the chambermaid. JORDAN left a letter behind him stating that he had committed suicide on account of depression of spirits, caused by family troubles. The letter was written in pencil, in a firm, round and business hand, on the back of another letter introducing him as a Lieutenant in the First United States Colored Heavy Artillery, and the deceased was, at one time, a member of the Seventy-ninth New-York Volunteers. A verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered by the jury.

Yesterday afternoon Capt. J. PETERSON, of the bark Thomas, saw GONZALEZ, the alleged murderer of OTERO, at the Myrtle-avenue Police-station, in Brooklyn, and identified him as the person that accompanied OTERO on Wednesday last, while OTERO and the Captain were pricing articles of furniture for OTERO's new theatre in Cardenas. The Captain also identified OTERO's corpse, and the blood-stained garments which, on Saturday evening, Capt. WADDY seized in the bed-room which GONZALEZ had occupied in the German boarding-house at No. 217 Centre-street. OTERO's remains are to be buried, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, from the Church of Our Lady of Mercy—Rev. Father McKENNA's—in Debevoise-street, Brooklyn. Coroner LYNCH will hold the inquest this afternoon at the Kings County Coroners' office.

In the matter of the application made by the Market Commissioners, appointed for the purpose of erecting a market in the Eighteenth Ward, pursuant to an act of the late Legislature of this State, the Supreme Court yesterday, Justice CLERKE presiding, rendered a decision in favor of the Commissioners. The proceeding was in the shape of a mandamus against the Common Council of the city, and the writ was issued for the purpose of compelling that body to issue the stock-bonds, in pursuance of the Legislative act, so that funds could be raised to build the uptown market in question. We have good authority for saying the case will be taken to the Appellate Court.

A trial of considerable interest to Broadway saloon keepers, and others, was on trial during the day yesterday, in the Supreme Court, Circuit, before Justice PECKHAM and a jury. The plaintiff, RACHEL EBERLE, dealer in hoop skirts, &c., brought a suit to recover about $5,000, the amount of damage alleged to have been sustained by her, by reason of a "pretty waiter girl saloon" having been kept in the lower part of the building which she had rented on Broadway. The suit is brought against the owner of the building, and also against the proprietor of the saloon. The trial was not concluded when the court adjourned.

Officer VAN GRICHTEN, of the Twenty-eighth Precinct, was violently assaulted by four men, while patrolling his beat in West-street, near Charlton. He observed a man endeavoring to make an entrance into a lumber yard, and on making the arrest three ruffians came to the aid of the prisoner, one of whom fired a pistol shot at the officer, which barely missed his head. On sounding the alarm an arrest was made of one of the men whose name proved to be HENRY THORP, a resident of No. 143 Thompson-street. The prisoner was committed for trial. The others are still at liberty.

The examination in the case of MICHAEL D. LEMMANY, a cook on board the American ship Edward Hyman, was continued yesterday. The evidence of one of the mates was taken, and also that of Dr. POHLE, the chemist to whom the food said to have contained poison, had been submitted. The mate's testimony was unimportant, but the doctor's showed that there was reason to believe arsenical poison had been used to attempt the life of the man BROWN. The case will be finished to-day, by the concluding argument of counsel before His Honor Commissioner OSBORN.

Three cases of stabbing with the knife occurred yesterday. DANIEL KRICHMAN, residing at No. 209 West Thirty-seventh-street, was seriously though not fatally stabbed with a knife in the hands of one JOHN SMITH, who was arrested and committed for trial. Two men named respectively MICHAEL O'BRIEN and CHAS. H. CURRY quarrelled, during which CURRY was stabbed in the hand. O'BRIEN had not been arrested at the latest accounts. JOHN CARROLL was arrested by Officer RYAN, for stabbing JEREMIAH MORGAN, who resides at No. 67 Pearl-street. He was committed for trial.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, DAVID BARTLETT, who has served a term in the State Prison, was convicted of burglary in the third degree, committed on the 16th of August, in entering the premises No. 128 Macdougal-street, and was remanded for sentence. WILLIAM KEEFE, who was convicted of murder in the second degree, in having caused the death of JOHN ABRAHAMS, by stabbing, was, on motion of District-Attorney BEDFORD, sentenced to the State Prison for life.

A number of scoundrels accompanied a target excursion party to Astoria yesterday, and conducted themselves in a riotous manner. They robbed the ferry house, assaulted the Harlem steamboat agent, and insulted the people of the town. A force of policemen from the Twenty-third Precinct was sent over to disperse the mob, which was done effectually, after twenty or thirty heads had felt the force of stout locust clubs.

Justice CLERKE, of the Supreme Court, yesterday rendered a decision in the case of The People on the relation of JAMES DENNIS and three or four others vs. MATHEW T. BRENNAN, Comptroller of the city. The motion was for a mandamus to compel the Comptroller to pay the salaries of the relators. The court denied the motion for a mandamus, and in his opinion he has given his reasons for so doing.

Three hundred and eighty deaths occurred in this city during the past week—101 men, 96 women, 93 boys and 90 girls—being a decrease of 50 as compared with the previous week, and of 60 as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The mortality by the principal diseases was as follows: Consumption, 65; inflammation of the lungs, 32; typhus fever, 26; bronchitis, 8; cholera infantum, 2; croup, 9; diphtheria, 3; dysentery, 8; scarlet fever, 8.

Coroner WILDEY held an inquest on the body of Mr. GIBSON T. OSTROM, at the New-York Hospital, who died from injuries caused by a bale of cotton falling upon him, on the 24th inst., at No. 6 Stone-street. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

The third day of the Strong trial attracted the usual crowd. Miss MUSSEHL gave her evidence, and was closely cross-examined by Mr. GRAHAM. Case on to-day.

The disturbance on the Rio Grande had some adverse effect on the Stock and Gold Markets yesterday. The market for money was easy. The Bank and Sub-Treasury balances have both increased since yesterday week. The banks hold nearly $50,000,000 in legal-tender, and the Treasury $68,000,000 in gold and currency.

A fair inquiry prevailed yesterday for the principal kinds of Produce and Merchandise. Flour was firmer. Wheat, Corn, Oats, Barley, Pork, Lard, and Cut Meats were cheaper. Moderate Freight engagements were reported.

At the Live Stock Markets yesterday the supply of beef cattle was light in comparison with usual receipts, but sufficient to satisfy the demand. 18c. ℔ lb., dressed weight, was the highest price paid by butchers, while the larger part of the stock went off at 13c.@16c. The quality was quite fair. Milch cows and veals have both declined slightly in value. Sheep and lambs are ½c. ℔ lb. higher than at last quotations—of medium quality and good request. Live hogs continue abundant, and instead of prices rallying this week, they bid fair to go still lower than last reported.

The Mayoralty.

It is claimed that the fact that MARSHALL O. ROBERTS was one of the staunchest supporters of the war, gives him no title to the support of the Union party for the Mayoralty. Were it said no conclusive title, we might admit it. Were he dishonest and corrupt, or were he so weak as to be transformable into a mere tool for other men of that character, nothing he might have said or done in the war would make him fit to be our Mayor. Personal integrity and firmness are indispensable qualifications for the office. If absent, all other recommendations are worthless. But nobody pretends that Mr. ROBERTS is deficient in these respects. The first imputation against his personal character has not yet been made. It is conceded that in that point he is every whit as much beyond reproach as the best of his competitors. That being the case, we say that the fact that he has been a thorough-going Union man through the times which tried men's souls, when every one of his competitors was more or less derelict, made it right that he should be put in nomination by the Union party, and entitles him to the vote of every truly loyal man.

The plea that national politics have nothing to do with our municipal affairs is of no weight in this matter. Loyalty is not a thing of politics. It is the first duty of every citizen, irrespective of political parties. He who fails in it does not deserve to be honored and trusted by his fellow-citizens. To give it preferment is to weaken the sense of its importance, and to fit men to be backward and unfaithful in every public emergency. That nation can never flourish in which loyalty is not regarded as a virtue to be honored and vindicated. This is precisely what the Union party proposes to do in electing MARSHALL O. ROBERTS to the highest place within the gift of this city. The principles which that party have maintained through the war in regard to what constitutes loyalty, leave them no alternative but to be true to the men who were true to it. That which is to be subserved by his election is not political discipline, but civil morals.

If it be said that New-York itself has not during the war conformed to that standard of loyalty, and that it is too late in the day to demand that it shall be accepted now, we have to answer that it is to the Union party of the city, specifically, that Mr. ROBERTS' claims are addressed. However the majority of the city may have thought or acted during the war, under bad advisers and leaders, the Union party of the city was as staunch and true from beginning to end as in any spot in the North. Sir MORTON PETO declared in one of his public speeches here that there had been as many rebel sympathizers in New-York City as in London, and nobody has yet called in question the statement. But the Union party of the city is guiltless of all that. It did its utmost to inspire a hatred of the rebellion and a devotion to the government—to bring up the popular sentiment to a mark of loyalty nowhere exceeded. Its efforts, we believe, told, directly and indirectly, with far greater effect than is generally supposed. But whether this be so or not, it at least remained true to itself, and exhibited an example that will ever be remembered with honor. Simple justice to itself forbids that after this noble record, and before the echoes of the rebel cannon have hardly died away, it should turn round and vote the highest honors to the class of men whom it had never ceased to denounce as untrue. It would be a most disreputable piece of inconsistency. Had the party been prepared for this, it might better save its good name by making an end of itself at once and forever.

Mr. ROBERTS has but to receive the whole Union vote cast at the election three weeks since, to be elected by a decided majority. We ask every Union man who looks with satisfaction upon his fidelity through the dark days we have passed, to think of his present duty calmly. He will surely conclude that the time has not come for turning his back upon what but just now he made both his duty and his pride.

The Sensational Reports from the Rio Grande.

The Mexican bulletin from the Rio Grande, by the way of New-Orleans, is, this morning, many degrees more belligerent in tone than any we have had for several weeks. On the 7th inst., as was reported some days ago, the Franco-Mexican steamer Antonio was fired upon from the Texan side of the river by some fillibustering squad, of whose nationality, purposes or character nothing whatever is definitely known. An Imperial journal published at Matamoras, however, pronounces the assault "one of the most dastardly outrages ever perpetrated on the frontier." Only two persons were hurt in the engagement. But as the Antonio had on board a detachment of Franco-Mexican marines, and had been previously under heavy fire from the Mexican side of the river, the firing from the "neutral" side was looked upon at Matamoras as an exceedingly outrageous insult. The assailants are alleged to have been dressed in "Federal uniforms." And to this fact, it is left to be inferred, it was due that the French commander refrained from returning the fire from the "neutral" side of the river.

We are rather willing to believe that the French commander had the sense to understand that no force—great or small—of United States soldiers were engaged in the demonstration on the Texan side of the river, and that he knew the firing on the Antonio to be the work of adventurous bands of Liberalists that had managed to cross to the "neutral" side. The incident is one barely inviting comment, except in so far as it may indicate the purpose of a class of adventurers—many of them, probably, fugitive rebels—to drag us into this Mexican imbroglio, before it shall have become expedient for the Government of the United States to depart from its present attitude of neutrality. That there are such adventurers at work in considerable numbers, we presume no one doubts. They may be Mexican Liberalists, Texan rangers, remnants of the rebel army of KIRBY SMITH, with a mixture of Northern chevaliers of fortune. They are no doubt in greater or less numbers at work on the frontier, doing as much mischief—whether designedly or not—to the cause of the Mexican Republic, as is possible under the circumstances. Much of the warfare carried on by the Mexican Republicans in defence of the rights and liberties of their country, must necessarily be of an irregular kind. But they do their best to retard the day of their liberation when they attempt to make any portion of American territory their base of operations. When our government shall find it to be for its honor or its interest to make a practical protest against the further continuance of the existing intervention of a European Power in the affairs of the neighboring Republic, it will do so. It will not be driven into any different line of policy from that which it has heretofore pursued, by the intrigues of Mexican Liberalists or the irresponsible adventurers that find our frontier a convenient sphere of operations. Every project of liberation which ignores the proclaimed neutrality of the United States defeats itself.

In view of these palpable facts, no one of ordinary forecast can misinterpret the reason why the United States forces on the border should be sufficiently numerous and active to take out of the hands of these guerrilla bands that find occasional refuge on our territory, the power of becoming the arbiters of the relationships which the Government of the United States shall sustain toward any other de facto or de jure government. If more soldiers are needed to-day on the Texan side of the Rio Grande, they are needed solely to prevent our territory from being violated by irresponsible bands of adventurers wearing the livery of either belligerent.

The Mormon Question—Its Easy and Peaceful Solution.

Our correspondent in Utah gave, through our issue of yesterday, a somewhat stimulating review of the present condition of things among the Mormons. He depicted the despotic power exercised by the Prophet BRIGHAM YOUNG; declared that YOUNG and the other hierarchs are treasonably disposed toward the United States Government; and not only this, but the Mormon people, under the advice of their leaders, are preparing for resistance, even to war, against any interference with what they call their religious faith—which latter article, as appears from all they say and do, is reduced to but one item—polygamy. The burden of the Mormon sermons to the people is to arm, and "arming they are." Nor is this the most impressive circumstance. There is actually an individual designated as "Drill-Master-General," who has been for a long time actively engaged in the business of arming and drilling the forces of the Church of Latter Day Saints for the great battle of Armageddon. Our correspondent gave some other items of Mormon news less portentous than these, but which, nevertheless, may deserve as much attention and more immediate action; such as, that there are Federal officials who take part in treasonable practices, who indulge extensively in polygamy, and who fail to do their duty as assessors and collectors of government taxes. We earnestly trust that the authorities at Washington will see that this last-mentioned matter is rectified, even before making preparations to meet the Mormon hosts on the final field of Armageddon.

As to the graver matters of disloyalty and threatened difficulties, we may say that such accusations against the Mormons are not new, and perhaps are not now, any more than formerly, altogether without foundation. There may be two reasons for this—firstly, because more than half of the population of Utah consists of recent emigrants of foreign birth, gathered from all the lands under the sun, and from all the islands fixed in the sea; and secondly, because the long and terrible persecutions of the Mormons in Illinois and Missouri, in the early days of the Church, have left behind them bitter memories of the power that failed to afford protection. Then, again, there have always been annoying quarrels in progress with the Mormons, which reached the very verge of war eight years ago, and the embers of which have been smouldering ever since. We do not see, however, from anything that has been published, that there have been any new or menacing developments of late, or that things are in any worse condition than that in which they have been for the last eighteen or twenty years.

Is it necessary for the government to take any action in the premises?

We decidedly think not. There is a class of people who, in public as well as in private matters, want to fight about every difficulty that arises. If the redskins of the plains have a war-dance, or fail to submit in all things to the dictation of the white man, these belligerent citizens would never attempt the policy of WILLIAM PENN or the diplomacy of Gen. POPE, but would have immediate war in the style of Gen. HARNEY or Rev. Col. CHIVINGTON, never to cease until the enemy is exterminated. If the spirit of the Southern people is not agreeable, our fire-eaters would fight them until they are in all respects in a proper mood of mind. If an imperial Zouave on the other side of the Rio Grande "makes faces" at a blue uniform on this side, our hot-heads would at once raise a "million" men to fight the French Emperor, and teach him that his hirelings must not turn up their noses in improper localities. So with the Mormon question and the Utah difficulties. There are folks who think the only thing to do is to fight the Saints, and reduce them to loyalty and monogamy at the point of the sword.

The difficulty will settle itself, or can be settled, in reasonable time, without our going to any such extremity. Long steps toward its settlement have been taken, without noise, within the last few years. Five years ago, the Mormon dominions were of immense territorial extent. "Gentile" settlers therein were few in number, and the Prophet's power was all but absolute. A few years' time, however, in the reorganization of the Western territory, Congress reduced Utah to its present very reasonable size. Nevada was organized, so as to take away a third of it, on its western side. Colorado was stretched across the Rocky Mountains, and took a large slice from the eastern side of Utah; while the other territories on the north and south were formed with the same object of Mormon limitation in view. Thus, by this simple measure, and without the least trouble of any kind, was the scope of BRIGHAM YOUNG's earthly sway cut down more than two-thirds, and a part of his followers left to mingle with the outside Gentiles. Another influence operating in the same direction is the influx of Gentiles among the Saints in Utah itself. Gold has been discovered in various parts of the territory, and miners are scattering over it to secure the precious metal. It will only require an emigration to Utah equal to that which, within a few years has settled in Nevada, to swamp the Mormon element completely, as a ruling political power, even in their own chosen home. Thus, in a seasonable time, by the operation of these natural agencies, the religion of Mormon will become simply a local sect, existing in the midst of other religious sects, and the whole of the earthly power of the Prophet will be nullified.

The Charter Election—The Candidates and Their Party Affinities.

From the Tribune.

The NEW-YORK TIMES assails Messrs. HECKER and O'GORMAN purely on party grounds, and insists that no man who holds the political sentiments common to at least three-fifths of the voters of this city should be supported for its chief magistracy.

The surprise of loyal citizens is occasioned by the extraordinary fact that the Tribune should have preferred Secessionists to Union men for Mayor and Corporation Counsel. That surprise is not diminished by the fact that Messrs. HECKER and O'GORMAN are the nominees of FERNANDO WOOD. Mr. O'GORMAN boasted that he never encouraged an Irishman to volunteer. Mr. HECKER voted for "Copperheads" and sympathized throughout the rebellion with the South. It is not their fault, therefore, that rebellion failed to overthrow the government and divide the Union. Why, then, are loyal citizens asked to place a Secessionist at the head of the City Government? Individually, nobody questions either Mr. HECKER's integrity, or his desire to reform abuses which are bringing ruin upon us. But he is pledged to Mozart "not to disappoint their expectations." How much "Reform" could be accomplished without "disappointing the expectations" of Mozart Hall?

The Tribune concedes equal integrity of character and purpose to Mr. ROBERTS, who is untrammeled by advance pledges or associations. Few men are more largely interested in the good government of the city than Mr. ROBERTS. The Tribune is vehemently opposed to the admission of disloyal members of Congress, and yet as vehemently urges the election of "Copperheads" to the chief municipal offices! But, says the Tribune:

> "Here is a large number of most respectable Democrats who say: 'Let us ignore politics in our municipal affairs, and choose men with reference only to their fitness and moral worth.'"

We do not "see it." Nor can we see any "large number of respectable Democrats" doing any such thing. The Democratic party is divided; neither faction distressed about "municipal reform," but both intent upon power, place and patronage. Tammany and Mozart unite upon National and State tickets, but quarrel about local offices. Hence we elected DARLING to Congress and MURPHY to the Senate, from strong Democratic districts. Hence we can elect a Union Mayor and a Reform Mayor, if the Tribune does not draw away votes in favor of a "Copperhead."

COTTON ABROAD AND AT HOME.—The English papers report a better prospect of cotton next year from India and Egypt than at any previous time. The conditions of raising and transporting the staples in both these countries are greatly improving; and if the price could be kept up to the present figure for ten years longer, a permanent and sufficient supply for the European market might by that time be obtained. But it is here that the peril and the fear arises. For if cotton can be again raised in this country at anything near the old price, or even at the rate of fifteen to twenty cents a pound, then neither the Indian nor Egyptian growers can compete with us, and their prosperity will collapse. We think there is good reason for other countries to fear this. We believe that cotton will be planted over a very large surface next Spring; and by the year following next, when the South shall be well supplied with capital; when its labor and industry will be thoroughly organized; when emigration shall have poured thither, and when the use of new and improved machinery shall be extensively introduced, we shall probably give Europe all the cotton it needs at ten cents a pound, or less.

TRADE AND COMMERCE IN ITALY.—What caused the sudden collapse of an enterprise which was some time ago projected, with the view of opening up direct steam communication between Genoa and New-York? The scheme had much in it to recommend it. Every succeeding year, too, makes the trade of the Kingdom of Italy a larger prize to be aimed at and shared in. Genoa and Naples have especially shown an unparalleled commercial revival since the establishment of the new government. And the old decayed towns of the Adriatic are said to be waking up to an activity they have not known for centuries. It is true Italy is still far behind in her foreign trade, as compared with France, Belgium and other countries of Europe. But the sixty million dollars, which make up about the present value of her exports and imports, will be doubled within the next decade, if the stability of the government and the progress of liberal legislation are such as the history of the kingdom for the last five years gives promise of. What has become of the Genoa Steamship Line?

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The announcement that the last performance of "Crispino e la Comare" would take place last night, filled the Academy of Music in such a degree that even "standing-room only" could not be had, and many of those who had not procured their tickets in time had to wend their way back to their homes. It is unnecessary to mention again the merits of the singers, and we may be allowed to state only that the performance elicited the most genuine and best deserved applause. To-night the rehearsal of the "Africaine" will prevent the performance of an opera, but to-morrow "Faust" will be performed, when Miss PHILLIPS will resume her rôle of Isabel. On Friday the "Africaine" will be performed without fail. The demand for tickets is immense.

ART IN BROOKLYN.—The first monthly reunion for the season, of the Brooklyn Art Association, was held last evening in the Brooklyn Academy of Music. The display of pictures was small but very choice. Among the most noticeable works on exhibition were: "A Lady with a Parrot," by BERBLER; "Study of a Head," by MERBLE; a "Sketch on the Coast of Holland," by FALCONER, and two or three fine landscapes and flower-pieces by WILLIAMSON. A beautiful fruit-piece by Miss C. W. CONANT, painted for Mr. DUNNING, Superintendent of the New-York Assay Office, attracted much attention. These monthly reunions are doing much to render art attractive and popular in Brooklyn. The "Art Association" have purchased the vacant lots adjoining the Academy of Music, and intend to erect there a fine picture-gallery for the permanent exhibition of works of art.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The Duty of the Hour—Marshall O. Roberts for Mayor.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The questions at issue in the approaching municipal election are not to be treated lightly or slurred over by political tricksters.

The State of New-York has nobly redeemed herself from all taint of disloyalty in the elections of 1864 and 1865; and the influence of her great example has been felt in the local contests of other States. In each and all of those conflicts of opinion among the people, the distinct issue of loyalty has been prominently maintained.

Now that we are on the eve of a municipal contest of almost unequaled gravity and importance, we are not at liberty to shirk this vital question. Every voter who has at heart the honor of the city ought to feel the same obligation of duty which controlled his action in the State election, and give his suffrage and his influence to candidates who have stood by the country in its hour of peril. Doubts upon this subject must be put aside. No candidate should be supported by loyal citizens whose record is not clear and beyond dispute.

Let us look at three candidates for the Mayoralty. The present incumbent, Mr. GUNTHER, has been frank and without disguise in his conduct while in office. He sympathized with rebellion from the start, and has never wavered from that sentiment. He thought it improper to rejoice at the victories which had covered with glory the Union arms. In his view we had no country worthy to be saved. Let Mr. GUNTHER stand aside.

Mr. HECKER is presented by a private association of respectable and wealthy citizens, who have not thus far shown much wisdom in their public action, nor, so far as we can learn, have they done a great deal of harm, for we believe they have never yet presented a candidate who had even a remote chance of being elected.

But Mr. HECKER has other sponsors. Mr. FERNANDO WOOD, a person well known in municipal affairs, takes the candidate by the hand, and presents him to the party bearing the musical name of Mozart, as the man of all others best fitted to represent that ever-varying and ever-grasping interest. And lest these questionable influences should prove insufficient to secure the success of Mr. HECKER, another powerful ally presents himself. Mr. NELSON J. WATERBURY, but recently discarded from the Sachems councils of Tammany, bears cheerful testimony to the abiding faith of Mr. HECKER in the policy and practices of that cradle of the "peace-at-any-price" Democracy.

It is by no means surprising, therefore, to a careful reader of the Tribune, that Mr. GREELEY heartily agrees with Mr. WOOD and Mr. WATERBURY in supporting JOHN HECKER.

The remaining candidate is presented for the support of the loyal property-holding and taxpaying people of New-York, by the responsible organization known as the Union party. It is to this organization that we owe the blessings which have crowned our efforts in the preceding contests in this State to which allusion has been made. It is to this party that we owe the amended Registry Law, by which the character of the State Legislature has been redeemed, and the first important step taken in the march of reform in this misgoverned and ravaged city. In the very crisis of a greater success, we are coolly asked by a sympathizing friend of the defeated enemy to join him in aiding the election of a candidate affiliated with those who have so long wielded the power of misrule.

The Union candidate, unanimously nominated by a convention of loyal citizens, is Mr. MARSHALL O. ROBERTS.

Let us glance for a moment at the career of this honored citizen. Mr. ROBERTS is a merchant, taught in the school of the counting-room, accustomed to the onerous duties of active business, self-taught and self-reliant, the architect of his own abundant fortune and unblemished reputation. As a man of enlarged enterprise, persevering industry and unsurpassed sagacity, he has scarcely an equal in this great community of successful merchants.

Mr. ROBERTS was the first—it is not strict justice even to say that he was among the first—he was the first to discover the brilliant future to American commerce which lay covered up in the folds of the Mexican treaty by which California became American territory. Long before the discovery of gold in that seemingly fabulous region, Mr. ROBERTS embarked his entire fortune, the accumulation of long years of patient industry, in the contract to build a line of steamers to connect at Chagres, on the Isthmus of Panama, with other vessels, to ply between Panama and San Francisco. These lines were in operation when the golden shower poured down to the Pacific coast. It needs no effort of the imagination to picture the benefits thus conferred by the efforts and the enterprise of Mr. ROBERTS on the destinies of the new empire founded on the shores of the Western ocean.

As in that, so in many other enterprises, springing from a sagacious foresight, Mr. ROBERTS has given employment to labor, and profit to all who have followed in his footsteps.

Setting aside for the moment these beneficent elements of character, so clearly shown in Mr. ROBERTS' career as a merchant, let us inquire what has been his course in the contest with rebellion.

Fort Sumter, with a little band of seventy Union soldiers, under ANDERSON, DOUBLEDAY and FOSTER, was besieged by a rebel force in Charleston Harbor exceeding ten thousand men. The garrison was in danger of famine. The enemy were determined to permit no succor. The policy of non-intervention had prevailed, and the little body of martyrs appeared to be doomed to starvation.

At this moment Mr. ROBERTS volunteered the use of his fleet and valuable steamer, the Star of the West, to carry stores for the relief of Sumter. Nobly did this unarmed vessel steam through the gauntlet of batteries in Charleston Harbor, and the first gun fired by armed treason was directed at the Star of the West. Her flag continued to float, and after persevering but vain efforts to discharge her mission of mercy, the vessel returned to New-York. This was the act of a private citizen, without any authority from the government which would have protected the owner of the vessel against loss, and it was cheerfully performed in aid of the cause of the Union.

From the day of Sumter down to the close of the rebellion, Mr. ROBERTS has been closely connected with and an active leader in all the great movements of patriotic duty which gave confidence and hope to the people, and power, credit and means to the government.

Such a man is, indeed, worthy to be the candidate of a Union-loving party; such a citizen is eminently worthy to administer the duties and guide the destinies of a great and growing municipality.

Can we be wrong, then, in saying to the true and loyal people of New-York: Put aside with decision and defiance all candidates of doubtful loyalty, all the associates of a defeated dynasty of disorder and misrule, and give your suffrages with hearty resolution and unflinching determination for the candidate of the Union party, MARSHALL O. ROBERTS. A UNION MAN.

BOOKS.—Messrs. NUNAN & Co., No. 78 Nassau-street, are now opening an unusually fine collection of English books, which they have just received from London.

SPEAKER COLFAX.

His Lecture at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Monday, Nov. 27.

A large and brilliant audience assembled at the Academy of Music to-night, on the occasion of the delivery of a lecture by Hon. Schuler Colfax, under the auspices of the Press Club of Philadelphia—the subject being "Across the Continent." The lecturer was introduced by Col. E. W. C. Green, United States Pension Agent.

Mr. Colfax, in opening, said that it was by mistake he was announced to speak on the "Duties of the Next Congress." He had already spoken on that subject, and had only to say he had nothing to take back, and nothing to add, except that the only safe pathway in which patriots could move, was duty to our beloved country. (Applause.) Alluding to the sympathy of Russia, so open and widely expressed to this country during our recent troubles, he trusted that when the old world and new speak together over the Russo-American Telegraph, we would not forget in the first dispatch to recognize the unfaltering friendship of that nation.

He then proceeded to give the most graphic description of his recent journey of 13,000 miles. The road across the Plains to Colorado seemed formed by nature for a railroad. To show the pecuniary success of the road, he stated that it was already paying 32 per cent.

Mentioning an incident in the early life of Sheridan, when in command of a block-house on the Pacific, when he cut his way through a surrounding force of Indians, the name of the General was greeted with a storm of applause, lasting several minutes, when Mr. Colfax resumed. He said they had a right to applaud him. In a recent conversation with Gen. Grant, the latter described Sheridan as one of the finest, bravest and most successful Generals in the world. In describing his return trip by sea, he spoke of passing the Republic of Mexico. He called it the republic because he recognized no rightful empire there. This was greeted with deafening applause, long-continued and repeated. Mr. Colfax then returned to his interesting description of his interview with Brigham Young, whom he had advised to have another revelation soon, prohibiting polygamy. Brigham replied he would be glad to have such a revelation, but some of his followers were not so disposed. Mr. Colfax thought it was time to draw the line of distinction. The Mormons should be allowed freedom of religious belief, but should be taught to put a limit to their revelations. The lecturer closed with a beautiful peroration on the benefit of the Pacific Railroad to this continent as a bond of union and affection. The address was one of the finest ever delivered in this city, and the lecturer's powers of description were fully appreciated by the large and intelligent audience assembled.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

Seventy-first Regiment National Guard Society.—Companies B and H, of the Seventy-first Regiment, who visited Boston last August, on their return from their delightful trip, resolved to present their kind escort and friends, the Boston Fusiliers, with a testimonial in the shape of a set of resolutions handsomely engrossed and framed. The frame which is to contain the resolutions will be seven feet high and five feet wide, and will have in a double-rowed circle around the resolutions the vignette of every member of the two companies who went on the excursion. As no pains or expense have been spared in getting the testimonial up, it promises to be one of the handsomest affairs of the kind that has ever left the city, and while it reflects creditably to the good taste of the excursionists, it cannot fail to be a source of great gratification to the worthy recipients. The picture, though delayed, is rapidly approaching completion, and will be exhibited on Broadway for a short time, preparatory to its being sent to its destination.

A Dangerous Quarrel.—Near midnight of Sunday, two men, named respectively Michael O'Brien and Thomas H. Curry, became involved in a quarrel in Second-avenue, near First-street. During the altercation, O'Brien produced a knife, with which he stabbed Curry in the hand, lacerating it in a very severe manner. A surgeon's services were called into requisition, after which Curry departed homeward, while O'Brien fled to parts unknown. Curry lives at No. 89 East-street. Capt. Mount, of the Seventeenth Precinct, is still in active search of the offender.

Caution to the Public.—It having come to the knowledge of the managers of the Five Points Mission—site of the Old Brewery—that parties having no connection whatever with their institution are, during the season for the more general distribution of charities, receiving monies designed for them, this is to caution the benevolent public against sending money for the Five Points Mission, through the Post-office or otherwise, to any one but the Superintendent of the Mission—Rev. J. N. Shaffer, No. 61 Park-street, New-York.

Another Victim.—A few days since we announced the death of Mr. John F. Cunningham, who, with his wife and two daughters, was on board the Hudson River steamer St. John on the morning her boiler exploded. The entire family sustained shocking injuries. The demise of the eldest daughter has followed closely upon that of the father, and the condition of the other child is so extremely critical that the funeral of the second victim is for the present postponed. Mrs. Cunningham is convalescent.

Auction Sale of Books.—A fine collection of English and American works, comprising holiday, juvenile and illustrated books, will be offered to-night and to-morrow night at auction, by Mr. George A. Leavitt, at the Trade Salesrooms, No. 498 Broadway. The English works include several thousand volumes of standard editions, many of which are now rare, which were consigned to this country by Mr. Henry G. Bohn, of London.

A Sword of Honor.—On the recent departure of Townsend Harris from Japan, that gentleman was presented with a sword of honor by the Tycoon. This sword Mr. Harris offered to President Johnson, when the latter gave him permission to retain it. Mr. Harris then presented the sword to Gen. Grant as a mark of his respect. The sword is a magnificent and costly weapon.

An Italian Reunion.—The Society of Italian Brotherhood held a meeting last evening, and arranged the preliminaries for a grand ball, to be given at Irving Hall, on the 5th of January. Signor Antonio Barili, and many other eminent sons of Italy, have charge of the affair, and they propose to make it the best ever given in this city by their fraternity.

A New Game.—A very pretty game has appeared this Fall, called the "Protean Cards, or the Box of One Hundred Games." It is published by John H. Tingley, of this city, and will be very popular among the young folks.

Mr. Stephen Massett (Jeems Pipes) we see, by his advertisement, is again in New-York, and is on hand for the present lecture season, to deliver his popular "Sketches of Travel."

Quarantine Matters.—The Commissioners of Health have instructed Dr. Swinburne to permit such of the steerage passengers of the Atalanta as are going out West to come up to the city.

Fires.

IN TWENTY-FIRST-STREET.

A fire broke out at 7½ o'clock yesterday morning, in the dwelling occupied by Mr. Alfred D. Jessup, No. 104 East Twenty-first-street, caused by the window-curtains taking fire. Damage, $2,000. Insured in the North American Insurance Company, Pennsylvania. The Fire-Marshal was duly notified.

IN BLEECKER-STREET.

Yesterday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a fire broke out on the roof of building No. 204 Bleecker-street, corner of Cottage-place, and occupied by Mr. Morrison as a brass-finishing shop. The fire was caused by the heat of the chimney setting fire to the roof beams. The building is owned by the King estate, and was damaged to the extent of $500, being fully insured. The top floor is occupied by Washington Lodge, I. O. of R., and their furniture was damaged about $25. Insured for $800.

IN CHERRY-STREET.

At 3:40 P. M. yesterday, a fire occurred in the premises No. 102 Cherry-street, on the second floor, occupied by Mary O'Brien, and was caused by the explosion of a camphene lamp. Damage trifling.

English Aid for the Freedmen.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Permit me to correct an inaccuracy which crept, inadvertently no doubt, into your report of my address to my congregation Sunday evening. The amount realized from my mission is stated to be $50,000 in the report, whereas I said in my address that the final results of my mission would probably realize that sum, the Congregational Union of England having voted to take a collection for the freedmen, on the second Sunday in January, being the basis of my calculation. I make this correction that the subscribers to the American Missionary Association, whose delegate I was in England, may not be misled, so as to slacken their energies or fail in their contributions to help this most deserving Freedmen's Aid Society. Had the sum mentioned in the report been the correct one, even then thousands would starve this Winter, and I have no desire to increase the number by any mistake of my own. I am, sir, yours truly,

BROOKLYN NEWS.

Kings County Circuit Court.—Tuesday, Nov. 28—Nos. 116, 118, 125, 132, 133, 138, 141, 18, 95, 107, 111, 113, 83.

Censure Against a Railroad Company.—Coroner Lynch held an inquest, yesterday, upon the body of Mr. Horatio G. Phillips, who was fatally injured by being run over by a locomotive at the junction of Railroad and Newark avenues, Jersey City, some days since. The verdict was to the effect that the company was guilty of culpable carelessness, by neglecting to raise the gates on the track when the train was passing.

Increase of the Police Force.—The Brooklyn Common Council passed a resolution last evening authorizing the increase of the police force, eight men, to be taken from the One Hundred and Seventy-third Regiment, all of the men designated having been attached to the police force previous to the war.

The Kings County Canvass.—The Supervisors have not yet finished the canvass of the county. Several district returns are still imperfect, but it is expected that they will be corrected to-day, and the official result will probably be declared this afternoon.

Robbery.—The store of Mrs. E. Griffiths, No. 310 Myrtle-avenue, was robbed on Sunday night of articles valued at $70. The robber broke in the show-window and took whatever he could lay hold of, consisting, principally, of perfumery.

The Balloon Wedding is said to have been the height of connubial felicity. The happy couple were in the highest spirits as they were elevated above the cares of the world. When up at an altitude of a mile above the earth, Prof. Lowe asked the bride if there was anything needed to complete her happiness. She said there was but one thing she desired to visit earth again for; if she had only thought of bringing a bottle of Egyptian Lotus along, she would have been content to have passed the remainder of her days where she was.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION
in New-York,
BY SCHENCK'S
PULMONIC SYRUP,
SEAWEED TONIC,
and
MANDRAKE PILLS.

Miss Catherine Collins is now a living testimony of the effects of Dr. Schenck's medicine. She resides at No. 211 Mott-st., New-York. Dr. Schenck visited her about the 1st of February last. He found her apparently in the last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, and from all appearances could not last more than three weeks. Her left lung, from bottom to top, was nothing but a mass of corruption. The right bronchial tubes were also affected, but no cavities. She had night sweats, chills, and flashes of heat at times; could not lie down, but had to be propped up in a chair. Her mother said that her husband and several of her children had died in the same way. They were poor, and not able to buy medicine, but Dr. Schenck took an interest in her, and gave her medicine, and cured her. Now, any one that has a cough or lung disease should call and see her. It gives them more confidence in Dr. Schenck's medicines. They will find a quite hearty looking person, with right lung sounding full, clear, with respiration healthy and natural, and the left one dead, sounding as though what was left was solid and useless. Still she, like Dr. Schenck, lives with one lung, and enjoys good health. She was cured because she was confined to her room. Many of Dr. Schenck's certificates you read seem almost improbable, but by inquiring they find them not exaggerated. They were bedfast until their lungs healed and took no cold. How much easier should those not so far gone be cured. They may take Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, and follow the directions closely, and keep getting better and worse, and finally die, for one simple reason—they keep taking little colds, enough to keep the lungs inflamed. When a person has a diseased lung, they should stay in the house as much and even more than one just recovering from a dangerous sickness; yet it is thought by most physicians best for consumptive patients to go out and get the fresh air—but do they ever cure real consumption by this course?

Dr. Schenck's medicines cleanse the stomach and liver, equalize the circulation of the blood, create an appetite, and the food is made to digest and made into good blood, and that is all they do. Nature will do the rest. Dr. J. H. Schenck will be at his principal office, No. 15 North 6th-st., corner of Commerce, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. till 4 P. M.; No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, every Tuesday, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M.; No. 38 Summer-st., Boston, every Wednesday, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M.; and every other Friday, at No. 108 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md. All advice free, but for a thorough examination with his respirometer he charges three dollars.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each, $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

For sale by all druggists and dealers.

N. B.—A full supply of Dr. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES can be obtained at all times at his Rooms, No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, and the Doctor may be seen there professionally every Tuesday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SUPERB NATIONAL GIFT-BOOK.
THE HOME OF WASHINGTON
AND
ITS ASSOCIATIONS,
HISTORICAL, BIOGRAPHICAL AND PICTORIAL.
New Edition, Revised, with Additions.
BY BENSON J. LOSSING.
Illustrated with 150 engravings, mainly from original drawings by the author, embracing numerous views of Mount Vernon, various interesting objects upon the grounds, copies of famous pictures, portraits of Washington and other members of the family, as well as distinguished personages of his time, etc.

This new edition of this popular national work has been carefully corrected, and very interesting additional matter, with new engravings, introduced. It contains very much valuable information, first published in this volume, relating to the Washington family, which Mr. Lossing's extensive acquaintance and superior facilities have enabled him to collect. This superb work is acknowledged to be one of the most important contributions to our historical literature, presenting a complete memorial of the private and domestic life of the Father of his country. It is printed by Alvord on superfine paper, delicately tinted, and elegantly bound in heavy beveled boards, in new styles of binding, designed for the boudoir, parlor table and home library.

From the American Literary Gazette.

It is in every respect a unique volume, for there is no other one which covers the same ground, and it is a companion to every other one which treats of the Father of his country. It is manufactured in an unexceptionable style. The heavy paper is delicately tinted, the printing is in Mr. Alvord's best manner, and 140 graphic illustrations accompany the text. The book is now quite opportune. * * We feel that we are not only calling attention to a work of historical, literary and artistic merit, but we trust that we are also subserving the interest of patriotism, when we invite attention to this beautiful volume.

OPINION OF EDWARD EVERETT.

This very interesting memorial of the home of Washington is a fit companion to Irving's valuable history, and should be included with it to make the library complete.

Small quarto, extra cloth, new designs, gilt sides and edges, $6 50; morocco antique, and gilt sides and edges, $10 50.

It is a simple, but a pertinent question to ask: Is it not in the highest degree ludicrous to suppose that a person wholly ignorant of chemical knowledge, should presume to dictate to the whole American public that it must use one particular perfume? A perfume concocted in ignorance, and without any real substantial merit? By such a party, some exotic flower is selected for a name, and the christening duly takes place. An apothecary supplies the essential oils, and a perfume is made RESEMBLING NOTHING in the floral kingdom.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. Francis Lobdell, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Conn.

BRIDGEPORT, Jan. 21, 1864.

GENTLEMEN: I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity, to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never, in a single instance, has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed.

Entirely unsolicited, I send you this testimonial, which you are at liberty to use in any way you choose. Perhaps the Balsam does not affect all persons alike, but it always removes my hoarseness, and fits me for the minister's hard working day—the Sabbath.

Very truly yours, FRANCIS LOBDELL.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 195 Elm-st. CITY POLITICS.

Address of the Union Party to the People.

Letter of Marshall O. Roberts Accepting the Nomination.

CARD FROM MAYOR GUNTHER.

Address of the Union Party.

To the Electors of the City of New-York:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: An important election, affecting the interests of the metropolis into the distant future, will be held on Tuesday, the 5th day of December.

The chief executive and law officers, together with three-quarters of the legislators, of the municipality, and a portion of the guardians of the public education, are to be chosen, who will fill their offices for various terms ranging from one to six years, and whose official policy must necessarily shape the conduct of public affairs, not only for the present, but also for years after their terms expire.

The majority of the good in all the political parties, becoming disgusted with the corruption which prevailed in the administration of public affairs, abandoned their old party affiliations, and, combining together under the title of the Union party, rescued the National Government from disintegration, reformed the finances, and purified the administration of the State Government; and having successively placed beyond party control the Central Park Commission, the Police, and other departments of this city, now address themselves to the completion of the work of renovating the City Government.

This party has nominated two irreproachable, talented and energetic citizens for the leading municipal offices, and now invite your suffrages for MARSHALL O. ROBERTS for Mayor, and for MURRAY HOFFMAN for Counsel to the Corporation. The Union party ask your suffrages for these candidates, in execution of its broad plans for the reinstitution of good government, and with the direct practical aim of reducing our burdensome and hitherto rapidly increasing taxation.

The Democratic party have nominated their favorites. The Democratic party have long ruled this city, and the peculations and corruptions under which we are suffering have sprung up and been perpetuated and augmented under it. It is from the domination of this party that an oppressed people now appeal. It is a maxim that the elected representative of a party cannot reform that party, or successfully combat with its schemes. A ring candidate must join the ring. And it is vain to look to any officer elected by this party for relief from the evils that afflict the body politic. A bitter fountain cannot send forth sweet waters. And we are thus compelled to refuse support to candidates who are excluded from all possibility of remedying the general extravagance, incompetency and dissoluteness which have crept into public affairs under the fostering influences of the Democratic party.

Other opponents to this movement of the Union party are in the field, upon the nomination of a small committee appointed by a few of the members of the Citizens' Association. Coalescing with the branch of the Democratic party that has hitherto been the most disloyal, they seek to draw to their support some credulous votes from the Union party, under the cry of a non-partisan movement for reform.

Our citizens have never been assembled in general mass meeting for deliberation, and for the selection of candidates that would be acceptable to those who were ready to espouse such a non-partisan movement; and these nominations, made in secret, which take both leading candidates from one party, entirely ignoring the other, are by that act robbed of the confidence of the community; and the movement discovers itself to be a part of the machinery used by designing and ambitious men. One of these candidates has been an avowed and dangerous enemy of the National Government in its dark days, and the other has appeared by his writings as the champion of human slavery. And we are thus compelled to refuse support to candidates, one of whom is liable to become an enemy of the City Government; and the other, to favor class legislation and the unequal application of the laws.

It is a matter of congratulation to the Union party, that the division of its opponents, growing out of the inevitable quarrels of the corrupt for spoils, affords the reasonable expectation that our candidates will be triumphantly elected.

All that it requires is a united, firm front, and the victory for the city will be gained under the same banner that made us triumphant in the State and nation. MARSHALL O. ROBERTS is extensively identified with the industrial, commercial and landed interests of the city; he has been a true and generous supporter of the government in his country; he is in favor of the largest possible reduction in the expenditures of the City Government; he will recommend or appoint for official positions only men of integrity and ability; and he will bring the whole executive power of the Mayoralty into support of the measures for the cleanliness and health of the city and port, which are so much needed, and which the threatened visitation of the cholera most sternly demands shall be comprehensive and immediate.

It is universally admitted that if there is one man who has been forward in all measures for the benefit and honor of this city, who has contributed liberally to every object worthy of a citizen's pride and support, who has been entirely above the control of political cliques, wire-pullers and demagogues, who is deserving of the suffrages of his neighbors and fellow-residents of the metropolis, whom our citizens should rejoice to see in nomination for any office, and should make unusual determined and victorious efforts to elect, that man is MARSHALL O. ROBERTS.

With such an officer as the Chief-Magistrate of the city, possessing the confidence of the Legislature of the State, which has already been elected by the same Union party which places him in nomination, we may demand and expect that his powers for good will be increased by the legislative conferment of functions which public morality has hitherto consistently refused to the Democratic incumbents of that office. With his election will be inaugurated the municipal reform which all good citizens desire.

In consonance with the high principles which have governed the nomination for Mayor, and that of the experienced jurist, MURRAY HOFFMAN, for Counsel to the Corporation, the Union party have placed in nomination candidates for the other offices who will, it is confidently believed, justify, by an honest and able discharge of their respective duties, the confidence of their fellow-citizens.

The Union Nomination for Mayor.

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN THE COMMITTEE AND MARSHALL O. ROBERTS, ESQ.

Marshall O. Roberts, Esq.:

SIR: On behalf of the Union men of the City of New-York, the undersigned, a committee appointed for that purpose by the Union Convention, which met last evening, tender to you the nomination as the Union candidate for Mayor at the approaching Charter Election. Your nomination was unanimous, and was made with such demonstrations of enthusiasm and such manifestations of energy and determination in its support, as to warrant the strongest confidence that success awaits our efforts in the coming contest.

The Union men of this city consider that the Mayor of New-York is not a mere agent for the performance of certain specific duties. In the present state of public and political affairs, the Chief Magistracy of this city occupies a most prominent and influential representative position before the people of the whole country. The Union men of this city have resolved that the genuine patriotism and loyalty of the people of New-York shall name the citizen to occupy that position.

As members of the party which carried the country in triumph through the recent terrible struggle, and which now administers the government of the nation, and, by large majorities, the governments of nearly every State of the Union, the Union men of this city claim it as a right and regard it as an imperative duty, to place before the people one of their number as a candidate for the Mayoralty.

The Union party demand, and will insist upon, a thorough and radical reform in the management of the City Government, the abolition of sinecures and useless offices, the retrenchment of expenditures, and the reduction of the taxation of the city.

Upon the grounds and principles thus briefly indicated, we present your name to the people of this city as the Union candidate for Mayor, knowing that you will discharge the duties of the office with patriotism, dignity, honesty, and energy; that your election will secure a just, economical, and efficient administration of our City Government, and that it will be your pride and steadfast effort to promote the welfare of our people, and enhance the glory of this great and noble city.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 25, 1865.

We have the honor to be, &c., &c.,
ISAAC DAYTON,
LANSING C. MOORE,
SHERIDAN SHOOK,

HENRY H. HUELAT, }

NEW-YORK, Nov. 25, 1865.

GENTLEMEN: I have had the honor to receive from your hands a letter communicating to me the action of the Union Convention of this city, placing me in nomination for the office of Mayor of New-York, in which you are so kind as to express the opinion that my elevation to that important office would tend to place in the ascendancy in this city those sincere and loyal Union sentiments which are now predominant in the Federal administration and in the government of the States, and would also help in the reformation of the City Government, and in the relief of the citizens from the disgraces and oppressions which now afflict all classes of our population.

Under a free and popular government like ours, though a citizen may be justified in not seeking or striving for public office or political distinction, he has no right to decline public service, however arduous, to which he is called by the genuine and spontaneous wishes of his fellow-citizens.

In this feeling, but with much distrust of my qualifications for the important duties which the representatives of the Union party have called upon me to undertake, if the popular suffrage should confirm their choice, I accept the nomination so generously tendered to me, and assure you and the great party which you represent, and all of my fellow-citizens who may give me their support at the polls, that as I have but one motive in entering into the canvass, so I shall have but one purpose in administering the office, and that is to contribute all that shall lie in my power to make the government of the City of New-York loyal to the nation and the State, and honest and faithful in its duties to the people, from whom and for whom it holds its powers. With my thanks to the convention for the personal honor they have done me, and to you, gentlemen, for the kind manner in which you have addressed me, I am, with great respect, your obedient servant,

MARSHALL O. ROBERTS.

To Isaac Dayton, Lansing C. Moore, Sheridan Shook, James Kelly, Chester A. Arthur, William Atkinson, Owen W. Brennan, Robert Edwards, William B. Stewart, Committee.

A Card from Mayor Gunther.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: Reports industriously circulated, that I have or will withdraw from the Mayoralty contest, compel me to thus publicly deny the same.

I find myself in a canvass with three gentlemen, either of whom I would be pleased to see try his skill at remedying the many abuses which exist in our Municipal Government, and I would not have acceded to the wishes of my friends, who desired my reëlection and accepted their nomination, had I not been assured that a doubtful Democrat and a corrupt man was to have been my opponent.

Since the nominations have been made I have been so traduced and maligned for my political course, that my self-respect and the duty I owe my friends, will not admit of my withdrawing for either of the candidates, in neither of whom the people can recognize the principles for which I am persecuted.

I rely upon your verdict, and from the assurances of my friends am confident of a result based on the intelligence and virtue of the people.

C. GODFREY GUNTHER.

TWENTIETH WARD.—The German Union Club of this ward held a special meeting last evening at headquarters, KROMON'S, No. 189 West Thirty-third-street. Dr. FREDERIC SCHUTZ presided. The order of the day was the consideration of the Mayoralty nominations made by the different political organizations. After a searching investigation of the several candidates, it was resolved with great unanimity to indorse the Union ticket, viz.: MARSHALL O. ROBERTS for Mayor, and MURRAY HOFFMAN for Corporation Counsel. Likewise Mr. JAMES L. HASTIE was indorsed for School Commissioner, and Mr. GABRIEL VAN COTT for School Trustee. It was further resolved to hold a mass meeting next Friday night, to ratify the nominations made. This club means to work, and will prove that Germans can discriminate.

Nominations by the War Democracy.

The General Committee of the War Democracy met last evening and nominated MARSHALL O. ROBERTS for Mayor and TIMOTHY CRONIN for Corporation Counsel. The first choice of the convention for these offices were Gen. DIX and EDWARDS PIERREPONT, but it being positively stated that neither of these gentlemen would consent to run, Messrs. ROBERTS and CRONIN were made the nominees.

The Metropolitan Fire Department.

The Board of Commissioners held an adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon, a full board being present.

The following complaints were read and disposed of:

FRANKLIN C. FAVER was charged with bringing a surprise party to truck house Metropolitan Hook and Ladder Company No. 4, by Foreman MICHAEL SNYDER.

District Engineer R. V. MACKAY made a complaint of no attendance at a fire in Greenwich-street Station No. 15, on the 24th inst., against Foreman W. H. BOWLES and Assistant Foreman W. BINGHAM, of Hook and Ladder Company No. 10. Referred to Committee on Appointments and Discipline.

The resignation of A. C. VIGER, Assistant Foreman of Hook and Ladder Company No. 8, was handed in and accepted, as was also that of P. J. BYRNE, of Engine Company No. 5, who at considerable length gave as reasons for his resignation the impossibility of complying with the requirements of the department in their exclusive claim upon his time, and in the providing at his own cost the clothing prescribed by the department, stating that to support his family with his pay of $1 92 per day was in itself a difficulty, without the heavy demand to be made for clothing liable to be rendered useless at any fire that he might attend in pursuance of his duty.

The application of Hose Company No. 48, asking for a sum expended by them on their new house, was ordered to be filed. A communication from Deputy Sheriff LERIDGE, soliciting that sherriffs and their deputies be privileged to attend at fires, with the license afforded to reporters and others, was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Discipline. A list of transfers was then read, after which the following resolution closed the business of the board, which stands adjourned till Friday, at 3 P. M.

Resolved, That the Committee on Discipline be requested to present to this board, at its next meeting, a plan for establishing a fund for the care and relief of those members of the Metropolitan Fire Department Force who may be injured or become sick in the performance of their duties, and for the families of those who may die in consequence. Adopted.

Coroners' Inquests.

SUICIDE OF A RETURNED SOLDIER AT THE FRANKFORT HOUSE—EXPLANATORY LETTER.

On Saturday night, shortly after 10 o'clock, a man named SAMUEL H. JORDAN called upon Mr. GEO. TAYLOR at the Frankfort House, corner of William and Frankfort streets, and asked for a room. No. 105 was assigned him, and about two hours afterward he retired. He was not again seen alive. During Sunday afternoon, BRIDGET SMITH, the chambermaid of that floor, went to the door of No. 105 for the purpose of putting it in order; she found the door unlocked, and was about entering when she perceived that the bed was occupied. Receiving no answer to her request to be admitted, Bridget opened the door still wider and saw Mr. JORDAN lying in a nude state across the foot of the bed, evidently helpless. Becoming somewhat alarmed, the chambermaid communicated the fact to the clerk at the office, and on further examination it was discovered that JORDAN was dead.

Coroner GOVER being notified, held an inquest on the body yesterday, when a post-mortem examination was made by Dr. JOHN BEACH. He found the body lying over the foot of the bed, the right arm being suspended, and the left hand firmly grasping the foot-rail of the bedstead. The bedstead itself was completely saturated with blood, and a large pool of clotted blood was found on the floor near the foot of the bed. Wrapped up in the bed-clothes was an ordinary dessert knife, much worn, and very sharp. On raising the body a deep, jagged incision was found at the elbow joint of the right arm, dividing the ulnar and brachial arteries, causing death from hemorrhage. On searching the clothes of the deceased the following letter was found in one of the pockets:

EVACUATION DAY, Nov. 25, 1865.

Having been for some months past very much depressed in spirits, in consequence of certain family troubles, and being at times entirely out of my right mind, I have determined to leave this world of trouble and sorrow. My family reside at No. 410 East Fifty-first-street. My father does business at No. 129 Greenwich-street, corner of Barclay. Now having come to my dying hour, I wish to bid my wife, children and family all good bye. My lot in Greenwood is No. 6,059, on Summit-avenue. Let some kind friend bury me decently. God bless you all. Had some kind friend taken me by the hand, all would have been well.

Again I say farewell. There will be, on my discharge, probably, from the Seventy-ninth Regiment, a bounty of $200 due me, as soon as Congress passes the law.

SAMUEL H. JORDAN.

The letter was written in pencil, in a firm, round, business hand, on the back of another letter, introducing him as a Lieutenant in the First United States Colored Heavy Artillery, in which command he was at one time Battalion Adjutant. Mr. JORDAN was 41 years of age, and a native of this city.

The jury found that "deceased came to his death by suicide, and by loss of blood, the result of dividing the arteries of the right arm."

FATAL INJURY FROM A BALE OF COTTON.

Coroner WILDEY held an inquest yesterday, at the New-York Hospital, on the body of Mr. GIBSON T. OSTROM, who died from injuries caused by a bale of cotton falling upon him, at No. 6 Stone-st., on the 24th inst. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death. Deceased was 29 years old and a native of New-York.

E. B. R****.

So reads an advertisement in a local journal of yesterday. Our naval reporter went to the place designated, and found that the officer wanted was for the Haytian Navy, and to join the gunboat Galatea, recently purchased from the Navy Department for President GEFFRARD. Three names had been entered for the position up to 2 o'clock, but many of the applicants finding that it was a colored nav, left without asking particulars. The pay offered is $80 in gold per month and a fine fit out, &c. The uniform of the navy is five buttons on the front of the coat and six on the back, much gold lace, some anchors and other ornaments, stripes on the breeches, clothing of blue cloth, cap of navy regulation, with two gold bands and one anchor. Those who go to Hayti will be allowed to become citizens in one year from date of arrival.

The Dunderberg is progressing rapidly. Her lower masts and topmasts are in, and the Etna Iron Works are driving up her engine work at a rapid rate. Nearly all of the connections have been made, and in a few weeks steam will be riased on her.

The Keystone State is being transformed into a merchant vessel, at the Morgan Iron Works.

MACHINE SHOP ITEMS.

The Allaire Works are putting in the boilers of the Puritan, and are building four new tubular boilers for the steamship Ocean Queen, of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company; the engines and eight boilers for the frigate Madawaska, and the engines and two tubular boilers for the new boat for the People's Line. OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

The National Game—The Atlantic Club Match.

Between two and three thousand people were attracted to the Capitoline Ball Ground, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon, by the announcement of a "Grand Match between the Atlantic Nine and a picked Nine of New-York and New-Jersey." On arriving at the above locality, however, it was found, as usual on these occasions, that only half of the expected "picked nine" had put in an appearance; besides which, it was discovered that, instead of the usual tariff of ten cents admission, a fee of twenty-five cents was demanded of every visitor to the grounds. This extra charge was made by the club, the proprietors of the ground having given the players the use of it for the day for their benefit. After waiting until an hour after the time announced for the commencement of play, a field nine was made up from those of the party originally selected, who were present, and such others as would like to "take a hand in," and finally the match was made up in this way. Neither Messrs. WALKER, PAGE, MCMAHON or ZELLER took part in the match, and their absence of course materially weakened the team opposed to the Atlantics; in fact, the club nine had an easy thing of it, and the contest turned out to be a one-sided affair, hundreds leaving before the game was over. Some good play was shown in the course of the match, especially by the Atlantics, but the field nine labored under the disadvantage common to all amalgamated nines, viz.: unfamiliarity with each other's play. The contest proved to be one pecuniarily advantageous to the parties who got it up, and consequently it was a very satisfactory affair. We append the score:

Umpire—Mr. CULVER, of the Empire Club.
Time of game—3 hours.

At the close of the game a trial of skill in throwing took place between Messrs. CHAPMAN, HATFIELD and others, the latter throwing a ball the longest distance—115 yards.

During the playing of the base ball match a party of ladies occupied the lower portion of the field, and had an interesting match at croquet—this game proving the most interesitng of the two to several hundreds of those present.

To-morrow the grand match between the Aldermen and Supervisors of Brooklyn takes place, and this will really be a match worth seeing.

POLICE COURTS.

Jefferson Market—Before Justice Dodge.

THE KNIFE.

DANIEL KRICKMAN, who resides at No. 209 West Thirty-seventh-street, was standing in his doorway at an early hour yesterday morning, when he was approached by a young man named JOHN SMITH, who stabbed him with a knife in the breast, inflicting a serious though not very dangerous wound. Officer TAYLOR, of the Twentieth Precinct, promptly arrested SMITH, and Justice DODGE committed him to prison for trial. SMITH is only 20 years of age.

DESPERATE ASSAULT UPON AN OFFICER.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Officer VAN GRICHTEN, of the Twenty-eighth Precinct, was on duty in West-street, and while patrolling his beat near Charlton-street, he observed a man in the act of crawling under a gate leading into a lumber yard. Naturally concluding the intruder to be a thief, he arrested him. Scarcely had he made the arrest ere three other men sprang upon the officer and struck him in the face, using their fists. At the same instant a pistol shot was fired by one of the gang, the ball passing in close proximity to the patrolman's head. Finding himself surrounded by a gang of ruffians, Officer VAN GRICHTEN sounded the alarm-signal, when the four assailants attempted to escape. The alarm, however, brought Officer SCHMIDT and private watchman YOUNG, who succeeded in arresting one of the fugitives. The prisoner gave his name as HENRY THORP, who stated he was 27 years of age, and that he lived at No. 143 Thompson-street. THORP was taken before Justice DODGE, who committed him for trial without bail. The other members of the gang are still at large.

SIDEWALK THIEVES.

WILLIAM MOORE and GEO. RIELLY were arrested by Officer QUINN, of the Eighth Precinct, and were charged with having stolen ten dozen pairs of ladies' hose, valued at $145, from the front of THOMAS TATE's dry goods store, No. 331 Canal-street. The complaint was made by HORACE J. SILLECK. Both the prisoners were committed for trial by Justice DODGE. The accused had disposed of a portion of the missing goods to ISAAC KAHN, No. 30½ Mercer-street.... JOHN MURRY, a boy, aged 16, was also arrested by Officer LOUSDALE, of the Twenty-eighth Precinct, having been caught in the act of stealing a piece of cassimere cloth, valued at $96, from the front of Messrs. MATHIAS CLARK & Co.'s dry goods store, at No. 525 Greenwich-street. PETER J. ACKERMAN, a clerk in the store, made the complaint. The prisoner was committed for trial.

The Tombs—Before Justice Hogan.

STABBING CASE.

Officer RYAN, of the Sixth Precinct, arrested JOHN CARROLL, yesterday, on the charge of having stabbed JEREMIAH MORGAN, who resides at No. 67 Park-street, in the right side with a knife. Nothing was learned respecting the provocation, if any, offered for the assault. CARROLL was committed for trial by Justice HOGAN. The prisoner is 24 years of age, and lives at No. 13 Baxter-street.

A NEAT REPLY.

"I dislike your saying that my teeth are going, So don't," said a young lady to her beau, "Not 'So don't.' but, 'SO-ZO-DONT,' you should have said," he replied. The damsel pouted, but took the hint. Nor need it be said that the balsamic preparation arrested the evil; though it could not quite repair the damage already done.
